Thread: Street art: Donald Trump with 2 Illuminati Teletubbies

I came across this on reddit today. The picture was taken in Copenhagen, Denmark. I thought I'd share it because it's definitely unique, and it also shows that you can create art almost anywhere, with any subject.

What do you guys and gals think?

What do I think? This is bringing 2000 kids memories of their old MySpace and Facebook pictures in 2008.

I'm a trump supporter, but wow this is crazy. It's very cool the talent that some people have.

I love the girl in your signature lol.

Back on topic - Yeah, I can't believe they made that on that fence/wall. I'm guessing it must have been commissioned or allowed otherwise they couldn't have done it without getting caught.

By the way guys - Whether you like Trump or not, this painting shows us that other countries do look at us differently than we all probably hope for. It's time for America to be respected for the right reasons.
