Good idea man I was actually trying to start something similar but just didn't seem like the best idea. My advice to you though is to make it mobile responsive

Really slow website, you should upgrade code

ScorpionOfWar - August 12, 2016, 2:32 am

I would use this if you make it much faster. And mobile compatible. But it looks cool

Edit: Registered as Vendor

I'd prefer using playerauctions...They have reputation.

Thanks for checking out the site :). We will be making a mobile site soon once we get some customers and dedicated vendors. :)

I dont know why but I cant wait that my account gets verified ? ?

Mush99 - August 13, 2016, 5:01 am

Accounts are getting verified now :) Also make sure to check your junk folder for any messages about confirmation of accounts :)

All new vendors that have applied have been reviewed and accept :)

Vendors can sell accounts and services as long as they have a PayPal linked to their account.

Mush99 - August 19, 2016, 1:16 am

BUMP.....

Minereaper - August 19, 2016, 8:37 am

Only paypal , no btc ? Also couldn't register , says contact webaster

Clegane - August 19, 2016, 11:26 am

This looks like it has potential, especially with botting dying down so auctions are gonna be legit and the market won't just be flooded with accounts for a low price and people undercutting each other. The only thing I would suggest is make it mobile compatible maybe make a different mobile version or even an app for it if you wanna go the extra bit, and also make the website a bit faster because it is loading really slow for me right now.
