I've asked for a refund, he promised he would give it but that he didn't have any BTC right now - <http://prntscr.com/c4ve8l>

I suggested he should exchange with someone with paypal or whatever he says that he doesn't have paypal either and the only way he can refund me is if someone else purchases the spot. <http://prntscr.com/c4veuy>

He DOES have paypal, I noticed few days later he opened a thread asking to exchange $300 PP for BTC but this is removed. He also have another thread opened right now saying he has $50 PP and wants $50 BTC - <http://prntscr.com/c4vflq>

Remember he said he will refund me when someone purchases a spot for his mentoring and that he will refund me then? Well someone did and I still haven't recieved anything - <http://prntscr.com/c4vgcv>

Why I wanted a refund

Spoiler (Click to View)

The first day we talk he set a time for us (next day, very early in my timezone) and told me to be ON time. I don't get much sleep but I'm here there in time, PMing him on skype. I wait all day from him and never get an response. Then after a day or so when he actually did respond to me, he says that he didn't recieve any notification from me. Proof - <http://prntscr.com/c4vcbj>

Well well, we continue but everything is so slow. He barely responds to me and everything is just LQ. & For a week or more, I'm still on step 1 for this method.

It sucks, well well.. apparently he didn't recieve "notification" from me. When I clearly sent it to him, as you can see.

I just want my money back, I've spent to much time waiting for this guy to come through with first mentoring & now the refund. Guess I wont recieve either of those.

Don't forget to add him to the deal dispute database, if he hasn't refunded your money.

I knew it lol, he didn't seem so professional to me. Don't take these kinda deals with people on HF (at least, 99% of them are a scam)

Might be beneficial to see proof of his other mentees having success with their business endeavours, as a form of validation for his word.

True. I just don't get it though, if he is going to scam why would he ignore me? That just makes it alot more obvious than it is.

Yes, should've waited for some real proof tbh, but I guess this isn't the first time he/others has done this and I'm sure it's not the last one either.

Lmao.

Yeah, I was really going to put myself into this and work hard to create something for myself, instead of doing that I've had to spend time waiting & trying to get ahold of him. Not giving up yet though, let's just get this resolved first.

He has now changed his username. He also has stopped responding to me as well regarding the next steps.
