Nice dude, you got a great list going here and I looked at your other compilation of tutorials. I'm definitely bookmarking these for future reference.

You teach people to do. Hopefully some of them will do the thinking part as well.

Well can you tell me a way if website have whitelisted extensions for upload ?

I've tried every other possible way I think...

If you think you can do this, I will pay you $300 for it rn ! lmk

Even is whitelist use it might be vulnerable

Like might be can use to upload .htaccess file

Another if website is completely secure then might be another website on same server vulnerable

So there are many ways to hack

Thanks
