Thread: PokeFast - Blazingly fast Go map scanner for Android that won't get you banned

pokefast - August 15, 2016, 10:09 am

Hello!

Let me introduce you PokeFast - a new map scanner that won't get you banned. This is because you won't need to use any accounts, and the app does not make any request to Niantic servers. Just open the app, and click on the find button. That's it!

You can download it from the play store (search PokeFast)

At the moment it only displays numbers in the map - in order to not infringe their intellectual property. We're still working on new updates to make the app even better, so stay tuned to our twitter @PokeFastapp!

You seriously made an account to post this? What a waste.

I mean if it works like he said, pokemon show on a map. Especially being on your phone so you can easily just switch to pokemon. Sounds great to me and i could care less what accounts he makes as long as the app works lol. It's not like he's advertising some bs.

"Blazingly fast"... 2 minutes in, and it still hasn't loaded. It's not worth it.

The best bot at the minute imo is Pokemobot. If you look here you can find configs which will make bans unlikely.

Check out Herbert The Perverts threads, he has posted the best setup so far.

there a new bot running on net that you can catch a pokemon in just 1 sitting you can pick location that was a hotspot of pokemos and you can catch them all. is this he one?

Sorry to hear that! Was it at startup? Maybe it was trying to find GPS (it does at startup) and it wasn't available, and thus the long wait.

Will look onto this!
