Thread: Checkmark UID=2866403 CS:GO Illegitimate Boosting Service \$120

So Checkmark contacted me asking for me to review his CS:GO boosting service:

I agreed and I allowed him to boost this account:

And 1 week later, it got vacced. I haven't played on it at all since then. However, because I had my phone number linked, this account got banned as well:

It had an inventory worth $90. The accounts are worth a total of $30, so the damages total up to $120.

I'm asking for $88.50 for this deal dispute to get resolved.
(90 x .65 + 30)

Legit scam report. I hope this gets solved between you 2.

OP, be careful next times with these kind of deals.

I specifically chose an account that I didn't care about but I forgot that my phone number was linked.

Not sure if he'll resolve this, did he ever claim for the service to be 100% ban proof?

You should've transferred the items, too bad you can't access it now, he didn't say that he'll cover all damages.

Rip, sorry this happened to you. He better make it right or his selling privilege is gone because everyone will know hes a lying scammer

minimalist - August 20, 2016, 5:38 pm

User has agreed to resolve this. Let's see how it goes.

Checkmark - August 20, 2016, 6:51 pm

We resolved this, My biggest apology to Mini. The Vac occurred because I had Cheat Engine modifying my game.

minimalist - August 20, 2016, 6:53 pm

Done with this, Checkmark can 100% be trusted. This issue wasn't attributed to anything but Steam being hypersensitive bitches about cheating.

Thanks dude.
