There probably isn't a chance to get in without having 1000+ reputation since I know it's a type of group that wants to have power on this forum and hence why you wont accept someone with 100 reputation, even though the member may have real marketing skills.

I'd love to see the future of this group though.

I get you're being defensive, you're in the group so discussing with you about the group would never end good, am I right?

Ohh yeah, my day has been ruined, I'm in tears.

There's a difference between really discussing about the group and leaving my opinion.

I'm exactly doing what the others did in this thread, leaving my opinion.
So does it matter if it's slightly negative? You might understand me wrong, but that's completely fine because you see this from another perspective. (You're in the group)

Please, let's just keep it at this. Thank you.

Although I'm not much of a cultist or anything, I disagree.

I mean, yeah if you're the full on robe-wearing, ritual-performing guy then that's a little cringe. But I would define a cultist as just someone who takes interest in that field and wants to talk about it. We don't know for certain whether these other-worldly powers and creatures exist like Cthulhu or any of the Greek Gods. It's an open discussion that may seem kinda edgy, but just invites people to think more freely.

I mean that's kinda like the fantastical cult, IoT, the ones that study the occult. The others which are more political like neo-nazis and KKK are a bit different, they have some leader that they worship to guide them. The leader's will is the command for the cultists to follow as always, but is more for political gain than anything. I wouldn't really associate with these kinds of cults but the occult ones seem interesting to say the least.

Are you from the US? If so all of your Presidents while you've lived have been part of a cult, dressed up in a robe and met with other people.

And not just the Presidents but other men with huge influence over politics and corporations, etc. I'm just saying not everyone who is part of a cult is what you described.

You should not judge nor stereotype people I am sure you know better than that. Anyways that's all I wanted to say, have a great day!

I think the main reason people aren't is because of lack of information, but I could be wrong. I mean, there are just a few things mentioned in the OP, like what the benefits are, which includes a brief list of people who may want to join. Nothing about any formal application except that it's probably sent over skype and may include a voice/video chat, which wouldn't be surprising given the last "recruitment" to meet Bandors at DEFCON. Of course, all the shy people are then discouraged but admittedly it's nice when there's a more personal level in the group.

It's complex and it stretches out so far you wouldn't believe it. It goes back thousands and thousands of years.

And powerful men today still keeps knowledge and whatnot from those days.

May sound bizarre but trust me, the truth is stranger than fiction.

..The CIA and Pentagon have quietly organized and influenced a long line of mind control cults, among them:

The Riverside Lodge of the Ordo Templi Orientis

Also known as The Solar Lodge of the OTO, which followed the teachings of cult messiah Aleister Crowley, whose fixed gaze on the astral equinox resulted in instructions from his deities to form a religious order.

Crowley, high priest of the OTO and a British intelligence agent, gave Winifred T. Smith a charter to open an OTO lodge in Pasadena.

The high priest of the lodge was Jack Parsons, a rocket expert and founder of the California Institute of Technology.

Parsons, who took the oath of the anti-Christ in 1949, contributed to the design of the Pentagon under subsequent CIA director John J. McCloy.

He was killed in a still unexplained laboratory explosion.

There is a crater on the moon named after him.

Conscious - September 6, 2016, 7:59 am

I see no Applying Quote so I am just gonna do what no one else has done and actually write whatever comes to mind on why I would like to apply/be part of illuminati!

Why?:

I believe the the biggest reason for me to want to be part of your group is due to the fact that I've been researching in to the truth(Conspiracies) for many years.

I think I was about 14 - 15 years old when my bigger brother told me to look a bit in to "the illuminati" and well from that point on my adventure kept going, I'm now 22 years old and the world of Truth(Conspiracies) still makes me wonder each day.

Topics I've looked upon:

The Illuminati, The families, Money, Media, Drugs/Medicine/Pharmaceuticals, The Mafia, Mk-Ultra(Mind Control, Charles Manson), HAARP, Government, Scientists, Free energy, Technology, Countries, World Wars, Wars, presidents, Occult, Aliens(Greys, Tall whites, Reptilians, Agharians, Alpha-draconians, Antartican, Andromedas, many many more), Spiritualism, Thoth(Emerald tablets), Religion(Satanism, Judaism, Christianity), False-flag-operations, Assassinations, Builderberg, Freemasonry, Skull and bones, Global-warming, Ashkenazi Jews(Or today just Jews) and well the list goes on and on!

Things I can bring to the group?:

Knowledge on various subjects^, lots of activity, a lot of knowledge in different aspects of computers/technology, a bit of coding not much, loads of interest in most of what your group stands for if not everything!

I looked at your puzzle challenge and I loved following Mr.Robot and others and of course to struggle with it on my own, I would probably(I'm quite certain) make threads on many subjects I mentioned above in your private sub-forum and share whatever I have learned from my experience, all in all I would bring whatever my mind can handle to you and the fellow members!

Documentaries I enjoyed:

It's nice to see that you're recruiting Illuminati members again.
Although I am a former member, I'd still like to ask you this question..

Do you requite members for the "Illuminati" group or will there be sub-sectors as well.
Like the "Occult" and other sub-sectors that were in the group before.

I doubt I'll have a chance on getting back in to the group (after the "warning thread regarding Skilõ" + argument with Bane), yet I do still believe in you guys to be one of the most intelligent groups, like Red Lions & Royalty.

Good luck with recruiting members, if I may "recommend" someone to be added back in the group, it would be this guy for a full 100 percent.

As you can see, CheGuevara?, is still as "HQ" as he was when we were a tight community.
I talk to him once a while in my Discord group, and I can vouch for him to be one of the most HQ Illuminati members I have ever talked too (contributed, intelligence, kindness, respect, etc.).

Anyway, I don't tell you what to do haha I am jus enthusiastic when it comes to such a great member like CheGuevara?.

Take care and good luck recruiting members. ?

Woah, thank you so much for the kind words. Appreciated! Much love!

Though I am not interested in joining the Illuminati.

This guy deserves a spot, add him! Rumors are that he cracked the Bustabit code and is making a fortune, perhaps he will share his secrets to the Illuminati.

Also, good luck to everybody who wishes to join.

No problem brother, you're one of the few mature guys who is always kind, who is taking care of his family and who isn't afraid to dig up stuff to expose the hidden truth about certain topics that many don't understand.

I highly respect you for that, much love for you back.
