Thread: Need some advice for a color scheme.

I've working on a MyBB forum layout and I know what I want to do with I'm just stuck on one small aspect apparently...

The forum is is a white/and a not so bright shade of lime green. I'm getting killed trying to highlight other areas like buttons and such without repeating the same two colors. I can't seem to find something I like that I think looks good. This is a flat design.

Hey man, I personally use these sites when I start out for a color scheme.

Hope you find some use for this :

It's kinda hard to imagine what you are describing. Perhaps a screenshot would help us giving you more useful feedback.

Found what I was looking for. Couple of the colors from the coolors thing fit in well.
