Why you did not used a middleman in such a big transaction?

I am way to trusting of people I guess, Ive been a long time seller on another forum and only dealt with 1 scam over a whole year. I thought UB3R's were super trustworthy. He showed proof of it and everything

[5:32:14 AM] Chile Guy: Im sure you have money

[5:32:33 AM] Shepherd: I have only $450 right now

[5:35:15 AM | Edited 5:36:20 AM] Shepherd: Mate i am not going to waste my more time..

You have 2 ways now(Choose any one from them):

1- Remove/Junke Thread and Reputation right now, And get your payment within 1 week timezone, If i didn't paid you nothing in 1 week just simply make new deal dispute again and give me that reputation again.

2- 2nd way is that i feel sorry for your loss and I won't be able to pay your $315 with that deal dispute/reputation. You will have to face loss of $315. (Obviously HF Thread & Reputation will give you $00.00)

[5:35:41 AM] Shepherd: Just take FINAL DECISION. I'm going to leave HF for forever from NOW!

[5:39:49 AM] Shepherd: So what now?

[5:40:21 AM] Shepherd: I guess you've selected option #2. Good luck and hope you will recover it

Sorry for your loss mate that's quite big amount.. well not every Uber here is scammer or bad as you written in your signature . I guess you may need to watch this thread >> and also when you send non reversible currency to anyone next time , check that user's trust scan properly and check he has Gauth enabled or not , if he has then ask him to validate gauth at the time of your deal and if he sending you PayPal ask for ownership proof .

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5212001>

Also watch this thread of Omni why Omni did put validation thing in place >>

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5180331>

I hope you can dodge any future scams and deal safe ... sadness !!
