make a website, setup a script to log ips, send people website, ip logged open terminal, and check your incoming connections, then you can call someone on skype and get their ip, or see any ips on a p2p network

You can see if you have any use with my iplogger

<https://cryptomsg.cf/log>

Currently only 3 domains because cloudflare doesn't like me lmao. But you can choose between a variety of extensions

You can also set a URL to redirect to after logging the ip
