Thread: [upload multiple files AJAX \[back end\]\[code\]](#)

wanbetaaler - August 20, 2016, 8:07 am

Hello, for the people who need to make a website that needs to upload multiple files or images, here is a back end source that i put together, you can customize it as you want and if there are any questions about how to use it please do not hesitate to comment or pm me.

this backend makes use of ajax so you dont need to refresh the page when uploading files, if you want to see more things please ask me what you want to see and i will upload it on here i used bootstrap and jquery for this (you can exclude the bootstrap it was just for my self.) use this code instead of any other libarys that are fucktup to use :p

P.s. i could not put the code on here because hackforums sees it as a security issue so instead of putting the code on here its hosted on ghostbin and you will see the links
