The tournament will be on this weekend, Sunday 28th* at 12 PM (PST, USA) aka 7 PM (GMT, Europe), to find the exact time in your local timezone click here.

Thanks for doing this guys! Very excited to check it out :) How do you plan on keeping teams balanced though? I mean for Solos.

Everyone will be on Discord during the event, we have private rooms for every team so you'll have the same communication as the other team, but in order to compensate we'll match full premades vs. higher ranked solo players.

Yes we're taking timezones into account and we'll come up with a time that's appropriate for everybody.

On another news, only 1 spot left for participation!

This looks awesome. More people definitely need to get involved.

YinYang - August 23, 2016, 7:20 am

Surprised Hollywood is in your map pool, maybe add a control point map like Lijiang Tower?

The thing about control point maps is that more than often they are one sided and very quick in uncontrolled environment (aka playing with strangers).

Big and broader maps like Hollywood and the likes will give everyone a chance to have fun despite of the outcome.

Ok, I agree with you on the control point thing, but Hollywood isn't the most balanced map, maybe you could replace it with Kings row (the go-to tournie map) or watch point?

Keep me updated! Am hoping on OW rn, I am so rusty aha
