I don't understand why you posted in the wrong forum. If it's not allowed for you to post in graphics request forum then this usually means you are a new member with low post count.

Go make some posts and contribute to the community before asking something in return.

Hi,

You can ask in the Free Graphic Requests section or if you want to offer a payment for a graphics service you can find plenty here, look for their contact information.
