It's made by Monster. Same company that makes beats by Dre. I typically stay away from them due to pricing not being the best for quality. However, it's a solid deal at this price.

for the price,

are these quality headphones? considering picking these up

EDIT: Did some searching, they're being sold for less than $100 a lot of places. leads me to believe this deal isn't anything special

Looks like rebranded beats to me heh :P

Just looked these up for the price in my area and it is almost the same price as the beats.

I know, that's why I compared them to it in the first place.

I'm just wondering if it's the same 'quality' because there is a huge price difference between these. You would pay alot more just for a different branding if that's the case.
