Recruitment open until 09/06/2016 closes today

We're looking for active members who are willing to share their knowledge within not only the sub forum, but outside it as well.

We are NOT looking for people to only post in the lounge and be a UB whore.
If that's what you're here for, then please do not bother applying.

Requirements:

You will be required to post threads sharing your skill-set and posting to help others.

PHP Code

<?php

/*You must have been a member for at least 3 months

Positive reputation

No open scam reports

Willing to teach others

Willing to help out HF in general*/

Rules and Expectations:

PHP Code

<?php

/*1. No leaking from our sub-forum.

2. Stay active and participate.

3. Keep drama to a minimum.*/

Application:

Option 1

//In no less than two paragraphs, explain why you should be let into Enigma and what you can do to help us.

I will PM those who were accepted.

Gary - August 23, 2016, 2:56 am

Good luck to everyone who applies.

Vegeta - August 23, 2016, 3:05 am

Good luck guys, great group with lots of friendly faces.

Clegane - August 23, 2016, 4:24 am

Good luck to anybody applying for Enigma, great group with an active subforum

Cimex - August 23, 2016, 4:41 am

My application for Enigma.

If you don't know me by now, my alias / forum name is Cimex. I'd like to class myself as a well-matured individual that has a full initiative for helping people where I can. I am currently studying network security degree and the involvement of different systems (Windows Server etc). My main focus is on networking, though (Cisco). For me, respect and trust is key. I always run from those two main things, because why be a fraud when you can be something bigger and better than that. I don't spend my time on these forums posting bullshit, as you can tell from my post count... I commonly post when and as I am needed, when someone wants help or when I have a question to the community.

I don't just solely depend on University to try and apply new knowledge to myself, I also put in the time and effort to educate myself in other areas when I have free time. I like to spend my free time learning more, or spend it with friends. My activity has increased recently, as I do like to browse the forums and help people who haven't already assisted. This is commonly done through private messaging too.

What can I bring to Enigma? Interesting question. I can assure you that I can bring great dedication to helping several members in Enigma and other members around HF, hoping to emphasise and expend a good name for Enigma. I will be active and I do plan on creating more tutorials in the near future; I already have a couple on draft. I am getting bored just lurking, I want to join a group that I can dedicate some more time to when I am on this forum. I'd love to utilise the various skill-sets I have acquired over the past years, and apply them to other members in the group and forum.

Insight on my skill-set: Advanced Doxing (Years of Experience), Common "Beginner Hacking" subjects (RAT, Keyloggers and whatnot), Penetration Testing, Programming (Python [Still learning]), Networking (CCNA), Cryptography and Ciphers etc & more.

For any questions about the above, feel free to ask; I don't bite! Also PM me if you want to discuss what current qualifications / degree(s) I already have in networking / administration.

Here are some topics I have created to try and help in the past, including one of my services: Fundamentals of Harvard Referencing and Academic Writing -

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5043698>

Introduction to Cisco Networking and Command-Line-

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5100664>

[Doxing] Privacy Leak | Leak Your Target's Privacy -

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5120154>

As far as privacy leak goes, it's more of a discontinued service as I normally just help for free now.

I hope to be hearing from you.

What particular skill-sets do you have?: I am currently working on my graphic skills, but I can provide data analyst, HTML (A small amount of PHP, web JS & CSS).

What knowledge could you bring to the group?: Like said above I can do data analyst for the group, free GFX (static and animated), free HTML and basic web development. I consider myself quite knowledgeable when it comes to

Why should you be accepted?: I thought I'd fill out Option 2 for this:

//In no less than two paragraphs, explain why you should be let into Enigma and what you can do to help us.

I'm active on HF, never been in a group before but I want a group to be active with, share knowledge and information and generally be sociable.

I have seen a lot of members from Enigma around; and it does seem like a HQ active group. One that I'd like to be a part of.

I consider myself very optimistic, and try to make good of any situation.

While I can't say I'm well known here, I do know 10-15 people on site who are now quite good friends, and I'd like to increase that number.

I fondly remember Crypto, and it's members. I hope that this group is as HQ as that one.

Thanks for considering me, and good luck to others entering.

Hi, Im Reddington

I am all round generally interested in technology, hacking, marketing and coding. I have a lot of experience with coding, especially with the .Net framework, but I am moving over to the native side of things. I have been interested in this sort of stuff since a very young age, and have learnt a lot of new things on the way, that I would love to share with this group. I have developed lots of things in the past, and also marketed them. Sadly I had to sell ownership as I am developing and working for someone else now, scorpi0n. Here are the links to some of my projects, I marketed both of these, coded the first one from scratch and partially coded the second one, as I bought the project to market it.

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5381043>
<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5381004>

This group seems like it has a lot of intelligent members in it, and I would love to share and learn new things with them. I am open to take part in whatever the group is doing, and also open for group projects and things of the sort. I am a very active member, and have never had any deal disputes or scam reports against me. I hope to contribute as much as I possibly can to this group.

Thank you ?

What particular skill-sets do you have?: I have an associates degree in Photography but my main focus is web development. I have some experience with front-end work such as designing in CSS/HTML but mainly I work with PHP, Python, and SQL. Currently, I attend university majoring in Digital Science with a concentration in Software Development.

What knowledge could you bring to the group?: I've spent many years in a program developed to teach newer university students on the need-to-knows of university and the degree program so I can bring experience in teaching and methods of teaching in that perspective. I also bring many years of experience working with back-end web development as per mentioned above. Additionally, I bring previous experience working with official groups and staying within and outside of the sub forum.

Why should you be accepted?: Aside the the acquired knowledge and maturity that I've gained over the years of working in this development field, I also am a pretty relaxed most of the time and enjoy interacting with a group of peers.

Thank you.

Wyatt Garcia - August 23, 2016, 12:09 pm

Age: 19

Country: Finland(from Sweden)

What particular skill-sets do you have?: I'm good in tech and marketing. I know many languages too.

What knowledge could you bring to the group?: I would bring my knowledge and I would help a lot of the people and keep the subforum active. I would share things on my mind with fellow Enigma members and chat with them. Don't know that's much to say, but I was in Enigma before and had to get kicked because I was really inactive. Was moving couple times.

Why should you be accepted?: I would be really active. Post a lot in your subforum and actually HELP other people. I wouldn't join just to have another userbar, I would like to join this group because it's in my opinion one of the most HQ groups there is.

Thank you, not doing anything fancy. I think there is no need for it, hope I can get applied and good luck to everyone else that applies.

Method - August 23, 2016, 10:52 pm

My name is brad and I'm currently located in Australia. I think I would be a great addition to the group as I'm really friendly all around to pretty much everyone who I don't deem as a troll. I've done a fair few giveaways within the community and plan to do more. I haven't really been doing them lately as I've been dealing with irl issues but I'm back and ready to start doing more. I'm currently 19 and don't act like a pretentious 12 year old to everyone on the forum. I'm not necessarily as 'skilled' as some people on here but I've had experience within marketing/advertising etc. I've worked on previous projects such as hosting companies, booters and virtual games. I'm really active throughout the week and will continue to be so. I honestly think I can give this group a greater image.

I mostly enjoy working around marketing like I previously established my experience in as I know I'm good at it. I will be releasing a project out to the public in the near future which could collide within the group. I'm very opened minded towards various topics and always love to give an opinion in a non bias matter. I'm easy to get along with and have no problems with anyone.

Gigabear - August 29, 2016, 9:07 pm

Age: 17
Country: United States of America

What particular skill-sets do you have?:

I am proficient in a variety of programming languages such as C/C++, PHP, HTML, JS. I have made (coded from scratch) several stressers all making around $2000 combined. I have coded various projects for friends like a web-interface grepper for databases with an in-built database and user management panel. I also currently run a company that specializes in measuring inbound traffic (up to 500gbit) called dstat.win which is used by almost the entire SST marketplace. I am certified in several networking-related areas and I am aspiring to get my CCNA certification very shortly. Also, I am proficient in pretty much anything linux or windows related as I have been using each combined for over a decade.

What knowledge could you bring to the group?:

I can pretty much bring any type of knowledge into the group at any time. I am always learning new things that are usually underground and not many know about. If someone asks about anything that I don't know about I will probably spend time finding out just for my personal knowledge and to enlighten them on it.

Why should you be accepted?:

I should be accepted because I am knowledgeable in a vast majority of topics relating to hardware and software. I am also a chill guy who likes talking casually or seriously. If you look in my recent posts, 95%+ of them are positive. I rarely start drama.

Notable threads & places I helped others:

Dstat.win - Current business

Tutorial on how to slap any kahoot.it game

Free Layer 7 dstats for any member

Thread helping others not get suspended when scanning IP ranges

[Free VPS giveaway #1 \[\$10 VPS\]](#)

[Free VPS giveaway #2 \[\$15 VPS\]](#)

A majority of my notable posts are not on HF.

Thank you for this opportunity ?

BR?ND?N - August 31, 2016, 12:02 am

I joined the discord game going on and I really enjoyed it. You guys seem to be a group of fun loving gamers like myself who are laid back. I have been trying to get into Enigma for a while now, and I won't give up because I see myself fitting into this group. Enigma has a lot to offer, but the real reason i'm drawn to Enigma is it's gaming niche. I'm an active gamer and it (aside from Hf and making art) is all I do. I'd love to play some games with ya'll and I got Xbox and PC as of now. It would be cool to have some new people to play shit with instead of stalking online lobbies in Rocket League ;)

As for what I can contribute to Enigma I offer my sense of humor and my abundance of free time as well as my graphics which although are meant to be jokes, I have done many serious works for people on here. I can commit time to a group, as I already commit a lot of time to HF. I won't lie, Lounge is where all the fun shit goes down. However I roam pretty much all over HF. From GFX, to Market, to the Ewhoring section and beyond. My favorite sections have to be Vice (to see all the crazy stories) and the SRPP section because I enjoy the occasional deep debate on subjects. I love to roam HF and jump in on threads and i'd love to jump into Enigma. I hope you give me the chance to show you why accepting me is the right choice ;)

My Application

About Me

Hello! I'm VmX5, previously known as "VirusCrafter5". I've been around the .Net section for quite an amount of time now. I'm a dedicated and motivated programmer willing to share my knowledge and experience with others. I've had first hand experience with computers from a great deal of hours volunteering at a computer repair shop. I have gotten many "Computer Studies" awards from school and am currently studying Computer Science and Programming in highschool. I like making tutorials in forms of a Video or a Thread post from previous experience from other forums.

My Skills

I consider myself considerably knowledgeable even though I don't know everything. Here are some of the things I know and work with.

Vb.net
HTML
PHP
CSS
Arduino / Arduino IDE
Computer Hardware
Photoshop
Photography

I taught myself many of these things to a level where I feel comfortable and confident discussing it with other people. Some of my knowledge was gained by teachers which I applied into other subjects which made teaching my self a little easier. I actively look for new things to learn about.

Why I should be accepted?

I want to be accepted into Enigma because I want to spread my knowledge to other members of the forum more effectively, I know I can dedicate my time to teaching others in a group or individually. I know I can bring an considerable amount of knowledge into the group. If I get accepted into the group I will be very active, posting tutorials, or helping other members with something.

Recruitment closes today.

I've been pretty busy, so I haven't had a great deal of time to check this thread.

Hey,

I would like to get into Enigma to be able to share my knowledge with a wider variety of people, I am currently helping a lot inside each coding section, but I feel like I could be even more useful by being in a group related to the knowledge sharing and where I will be able to find others people who share the same hobbies than me. I think I can help you a lot with my skills since I'm a professional web application developer and a certified SCRUM master (which mean I'm pretty good for project management too :D). I will be able to help in the coding section like PHP, Website construction, and C#, and also on projects and tutorial writing about every subject.

And why should I be added to your group? I don't really know, but I'm very active on this board and I feel like I can only be good in your group too, with my activity and my help. Also, I'm very kind and everybody loves me :D

What particular skill-sets do you have?: Marketing, Accounting, Business (skill varies i guess)

What knowledge could you bring to the group?: I absolutely love business, and am a passionate learner when it comes down to business, so I could potentially bring in my knowledge regarding marketing/accounting so far.

Why should you be accepted?: I believe i'd be a good addition to the group, and am always looking to expand and share my knowledge.

What particular skill-sets do you have?: Graphics

Gaming

Music

Writing

Marketing

Social Engineering

What knowledge could you bring to the group?: I used to work with digicanvas a few years back, I could share information as to what programs we use, how to use them and how to market graphics online. I'm also an avid gamer, I usually play Halo 5, League of Legends, Overwatch, Battlefield 1 and UFC 2. I'm pretty friendly so I tend to get along fairly well with everyone.

Why should you be accepted?: I've never been in a Hack Forums group before, I'd like to join one and spread the knowledge I have with other like-minded people and see what I can learn from those already in the group.* /
