hello there

im seeking for well educated programmer guys for a small group.

it's about serious programming talk, different skills and maybe some serious group projects.

we'll be on the same level everyone, so there is no one who has the say.

we decide stuff as a team.

i think a cap of 5 members in total is okay.

just apply here and i'll pick you up.

please tell me something about you. your age, language, skills and grade of skills.

I would take that user into your group whilst you have the chance.

Faith Connors - August 24, 2016, 1:13 pm

Age: 17

Language: English French or Polish, learning some Japanese so if you want to practice conversing that's cool too. I'd appreciate it.

Skills: I can run pretty fast I guess

Grade of skills: Probably not olympic level, also can't run for very long, but still pretty fast. Field tested maybe?

Guys, this is not going to be a group like "Fusion" or "Royalty". This is a group for fun. It's about programming together and having dev talks. And maybe some nice ideas arise as a team.
