X1 - Silent DOC (mixed CVE-2015-2545+CVE-2015-6174) - 0/35 -

<https://www.ziscan.com/result.php?scan=14771654793870> Scanned 22.10.2016

Tested on WinXP with Office 2007, 2010, 2013, Vista with Office 2007 and 2010, Win7 unpathed with Office 2007 2010, Win8 unpathed with Office 2007

v1 - 2007 - NOT FUD

v2 - 2007/2010 - NOT FUD

Auto-refud is now generating unique parts of shellcode to avoid mass detection in fast tempo.

Option "Auto-Refud Big Output" is generating bigger amount of additional obfuscation for cost of weight

This option is now available only for v2 but may be included in rest of exploits

This is real .doc files. This is not spoofed extensions.

It will open in MS Word

We are working on it already. We got few working samples of CVE-2016's silent doc from APT attacks. These exploits were used few times so are not abused as v2 or v3

GOOD LUCK WITH THIS MATE!!

This would have really been extra offensive if it works with jar files..

Your product is the best. Just maintain and keep FUD like the previous owner.

for me i have issue today with macro doc exploit. ??

Before i expose my issue, i specifie my stub is FUD on scantime.

my stub is detected with avast few second after i have tick enable macro on word.

WHile, when i test the same stub alone it works like a charm, avast dont detect it, so my stub's runtime is ok. ??

does anybody can help me please ?

It's problem with stub, not with exploit. If you crypted it, do it again and check before using with silent. Test silent (or macro) on putty download link first.

Check the latest builder mate before you will destroy opinion about our program. PM me with your license key, I want to check are you real OMEB user or competitor. It doesn't help us to develop our program. If you want to get 100% FUD Silent exploit, buy builder for $1500, not $290. 2013 is waiting for refund, tons of them were sent. When I bought the project, I extended licenses of old users free of charge, I didn't have to do this but I did. Now I wonder if it was good idea.

Four licences get removed due to "Banishment reason: Software used against ToS: Delivered to mass or/and contains malware" which makes v2 and v3 harder to refud. These users lost their licences.

V5 is still in development. There is still big detection out there. Due to big abuses from users i'm focus on refud current exploits (what is hard, simple example - one of you generated fresh v2 and sent 200 000 mails with v2 in attachment. Yeah for real).

I will still look forward for published Ancalog/OMEB files to find another abusers some users of OMEB was banned for breaking TOS (exploit leaks to malware analysis database and mass spam), so next update should be FUD longer). We are working about mixed CVE2012 with CVE2015, this exploit should work on Office 2007-2010-2013. Price for OMEB SILENT with this exploit will be about $350 or more.

Do not buy this RAT, it's pretty much useless. It doesn't have the functionality which is guaranteed by author of this thread and on top of it, it's recognized by pretty much every AV available on the market.

Scanned a file on virustotal and I got 10 out of 35, not to mention that those 10 were mainly most popular AV.

I did pay a lot for this program to run smoothly, but I simply got ripped off - they don't even care to answer to my emails, let alone update stub file.

Thirdly: You received old program version when you sent me virustotal scan first time

Fourthly: I do not answered for your email because they were so stupid that it couldn't answer

I will refund your payment, take your toys and get the f*ck out of here. It's not tool for brainless kids. It just goes to show how the author of this malware treat their customers.

Calling them brainless kids and threatening them. It's a good thing that you've revealed your true manners :)

I did not scan it on virustotal, you've got no evidence for it. Secondly, please do take some english lessons, your language skills aren't good enough to get the message across.

I might be new to this forum, but the way I've been treated by this guy clearly shows that they simply do not give a damn about their customers and tend to threaten them once something goes wrong.

I paid nearly $50 for older version of Aaron Remote Keylogger, which simply didn't work. Got valid key for new version of their malware, which as you might've already figured out by yourself is useless.

They do not provide any customers' service once you bought their product and tend to threaten their customers. It's a good job that their soft ain't that popular.

I refused a refund ? Are you serious ? I bought a crappy Aaron Keylogger which simply didn't work, you yourself have admitted that it didn't work properly -> politely asked for a refund -> got a key for OffensiveWare instead, since you've stated that Aaron is not fully functionable -> key has been deactivated in a single day without any reason. How are you going to prove that I've scanned a file, violating your R&A ? You scammed me. End of story.

Sadly, I was served by someone without a reasonable common sense, all I'm asking you is to give me a valid key or a refund.

No biggy, been lurking this forum and read thousands of posts made by resellers of malicious software, but I didn't encounter a single sign of pure rudeness and impoliteness like I did experience while chatting with you guys.

chikeluba2 - October 3, 2016, 9:34 pm

so when are you releasing the update we have been waiting for this for a decade now

ekwueme - October 3, 2016, 10:52 pm

Updates will be released soon, offensive is working hard to get things done

The high rate of spreading destroyed last code and made it common to all avs. I just hope we all will spread with care and on targeted emails, not Google search

Dark.Shadow - October 4, 2016, 9:21 am is it still completely FUD?

martigo333 - October 4, 2016, 11:31 pm

When scanned it shows 2/35 which I'm ok with. But to my surprise google chrome detects it as a virus when downloaded from email attachment..even Microsoft win defender does the same it deletes the downloaded file. No supports on skype too bad.

ExploTools - October 5, 2016, 1:18 am

Guys, when you want to get support on Skype, do not send message like "Hi, are you there?" or "Hello". I have over 50 conversations on Skype every day, you should describe your issue, send screenshots with errors, give me details of your problem. If you send me message with issue details, I always answer, if not, your message may be ignored. Before asking me, read carefully our last posts on this thread, do not forget to read our FAQ:

hexcypher - October 7, 2016, 6:01 pm

Just looking at comments about this tool, I feel disappointed about the whole inconsiderate manner the way the support is been handled. I remember running a dry test on posting of where to download update and i still have not got a response till date. Normally updates are always made available on the first page of post or within current post of Ancalog previous owner, also can be downloaded from tool update button.

I am not here to patronise the bullshit going on!!! Now this tool sucks! And the support sucks!!! And for you lot that have no technical skill of mis-using the tool, I think you should have a think again and do some research!!! But for the new owner that keeps capitalising on the misgivings of the people that spam randomly, what do you expect? Get a grip and deliver a better service. Previously, the updates where consistent and less complaints about users. If it was not the previous track record of Ancalog do you think anyone will be here???

I have used quite a few tools on Windows exploit from HF and the best still remains Office Harassment Toolkit (OHT) was selling for just $15 had MACRO, OLE and later integrated SILENT exploit that was effective like the speed of light!!! I am an Ultimate user on the tool but trust me I have nothing to show for it. Instead I just hear people complaining and people giving patronising comments!!!

I am not here for that madness, you either deliver on the tool or you shelve it!!! Always a way for the searching and determined mind cause you can't slow anyone on this grind!!! The struggle is real out here.

bistro420 - October 7, 2016, 10:06 pm

Thanks for this Its amazing. thank you.

martigo333 - October 8, 2016, 12:13 am

Let's be patient it's not easy for them too. I'm sure everything will be ok my macro detection rate is 0/35 so its fine and working my vouch for you bro keep advancing this tool.

offensive is still one of the best exploits i have come across,if it were easy to code i dont think anyone will patronize or buy tools here.lets give them some credit,rather than come here to criticize.i was a user of office harassment.he abandoned his project when he saw it wasnt easy.i never used his silent exploit cos it was never fud,from 7/35 upwards.if you want to criticize,let it be constructive and based on fact,not lies and trying to advertize a dead product like office harassment.after the last update i knew office harassment would dissapear cos he was sounding rude and not willing to support.i am not here to criticize but please my friend hex,next time do not compare a live project to an abandoned one.offensiveware is still the best.we aint close but i call a spade a spade.i give my huge vouch

I am here to make my point clear and just too busy to promote any other product as it is not in my interest. You can verify my customer loyalty and legitimacy from Ancalog as I have him on skype and our communication was professional. I don't entertain any ounce of intimidation from system developers as I can see that you possess this trait.

Furthermore, for your information OHT is no longer active and I just thought I should reflect a sound comparison in my comments. Trust me, I am not here to post patronising comments!!! All I am doing is giving a sound and critical evaluation of this tool as we speak. So if the situation changes with your yet to be delivered update, I will run a rigorous test and give my genuine feedback.

Get your facts right. And put your money where your mouth is!!! From your comments, any logical mind will deduce that you give patronising comments frequently. I have an Ultimate licence from Ancalog and we had great communication. Personally, I do run test with him occasionally before actual update is deployed and steered the development of the 'Protected View' bypass before it was sold to current owner.

You may not have strong technical skill, but others do. So do not generalise your lack of strong system design analysis and testing to everyone as that is myopic.

Finally, you should learn how to use the word 'lie' in the right context. Having a different opinion about a particular tool/software/program with strong evidence to back up my claim shows my level of critical analysis as opposed to someone with little or no sound mind of critical analysis and in depth technical skill talking about constructive criticism.

Hello my dear clients.

We worked hard today about OMEB SILENT update, we added this very good silent exploit:

X1 - Silent DOC (mixed CVE-2015-2545+CVE-2015-6174) - 1/35 -

<https://ziscan.com/result.php?scan=14762130298276> Scanned 11.10.2016

Tested on WinXP with Office 2007, 2010, 2013, Win7 unpathed with Office 2007 2010, Win8 unpathed with Office 2007

Another package with silents exploits HTA, CHM, JS, VBS and most awaited SEMI-SILENT DOC exploit for $99 is available (videos with exploits in action soon).

I'm very tired today, and going to sleep, please forgive me and send all questions on email: offensiveware@gmail.com, or on Skype (but on my skype I have about 150 conversations now so be very patient). Please do not trash this thread with questions. Link to download:

V5 is finished, will be introduced today!

Proof of work (succesful exploitation with custom payload on downloaded doc from net):

Requirements:

- DLL Payload
- Stub must be under 200kb, otherwise it will crash WINWORD
- LPE built-in into stub (UAC exploit or something)

Features

- Office 2007-2013 (Mostly depends on payload)
- Windows XP-10 32bit/64bit (Same as above)
- Embedding
- Protected View Bypass
- ASLR&DEP Disabler
- Mitigation settings from EMET will be bypassed to!
- Low detection ratio (3/35 according to ziscan)
- Vulnerability date: November 2015
- Pretty easy to refud

Cons:

- Must be downloaded to work (File must trigger protected view)

This update will be available for old Ultimate users (present licences with X at first char)

This exploit is made for advanced users. New users, please use X1 for proper penetration tests

Stay tuned ?

Quote:About V5 Exploit:

Only for advanced users - We will do not support this exploit on Skype nor TV, PM etc.

Penetration tests with this exploit require much more knowlegde than for the rest of available exploits. At first, this exploit can carry only Dynamic link library (.dll) files. This dll should be max 200kb weight and it must contain LPE exploit too. DLL must be native because of WINWORD process. To make this penetration test effective, dll must change process integrity for OS Vista and upper, from lowest to medium. This exploit is working only in protected view (except 2007) so file must be delivered via untrusted zone. We do not distributing .DLL files

Since this is advanced exploit, customers may do not know how to use it without proper knowlegde. It may lead to creating empty doc shell which will not provide accurate pen test! We have discuss about releasing this exploit for whole day and we are waiting for your opinion, please vote jruxin - October 14, 2016, 8:56 am

This is great, but I do think there will need to be more advanced programmer's willing to help the novices - myself included - (probably for payment) with the DLL payloads.

enezfamo - October 14, 2016, 3:30 pm

we are waiting for the release please

Suggestion: There is this tiny little feature that tells how long a version(exploit) has been FUD on the previous version(builder), but it is missing on this new version(software), I miss that feature and I would like to have it back on this new version(software). So I am kindly requesting it. Thanks Macro Exploit is confirmed as NOT working. Shows an error when word opens. It will open file but you have to go through 3 or so prompts. Useless as a pentesting tool at the moment. Hate when updates break shit lol. Right at the moment I buy stuff on HackForums, the products get drastic updates changing the whole product :(

Looking forward to seeing the product work again

teekaygold - October 17, 2016, 4:07 am

What is happening ? The silent doc is not working since the update. Please can you look into this and fix it?

ExploTools - October 17, 2016, 4:12 am

Silent working well and here you are actual AV scan <https://ziscan.com/result.php?scan=14766911717738> (X1). Remove your AV program during builder work, use compatible Office (the best is Office 2007), if you still have any issue, PM me your serial to reset. Tonight I will make video with X1 silent doc exploit.

skozyy - October 17, 2016, 11:16 pm

i bought this product through the previous seller, after having my pc formatted, the full package stopped working and only the macro was working and contacted offensive ware new owner about it and he asked for my license, i gave him and he said that my license is only for macro because its starts with U.

I told him firstly i bought only the macro version so that i can test the product and after it worked, i contacted the previous owner for an upgrade, he agreed to minus the first payment from from total price and i paid the balance after which he upgraded me. He never changed my license rather he upgraded it to work with all the versions.

I explained everything for the new owner and he asked for payment proof, i provided the btc link for the first payment and the second payment but he said that its all lies that the btc address is not for the previous owner, then i asked him to contact the previous owner to confirm the btc address and my purchase too but he refused and banned me instead telling me that after all i did not pay to him.

Please let you people ask this guy to give me my license back or refund me.

I told him that i will report about this and he said i should go ahead.

I need my license back or my money. If you dont respond to this well then i will open a proper thread for your cheating on me because i did not buy direct from you but am sure you know that there are customers already before you bought the right for the product.

I have both our skype argument and payment proof. I can provide all if needed.

theres a minor bug/error on the area to change the default png image. instead it spoofs the extension of the pix. am sure coder is aware and will fix this on next builder update.

ExploTools - October 18, 2016, 10:14 am

Guys, if your builder doesn't work SEND ME YOUR LICENSE KEY TO RESET. All old keys should be converted to new. Do not use V1 silent and V2. X1 is now the main silent - working well (I got confirmations from clients) with Office 2007 and Windows XP, Windows Vista, Windows 7 Windows 8. Always use UPDATED builder, today I will try to make video with new silent, I need some free time, everyday I have 80-150 conversations on Skype.

Dillerhans - October 18, 2016, 10:30 am

"with office 2007" so users computer must use 2007 - and nothing else works? ie office 2010

Guys, the problem with licences is on your ISP side. Internet providers very often locks domains with bad rep. Since auth server is blocked by your provider, you will get "Invalid licences" error. The solution is to connect via proxy or VPN

Glyco - October 24, 2016, 9:31 am

I'd like to point out to anyone who is buying this exploit or has already bought it. This exploit only works with 2007 Office not 2010,2013 or 16 just 2007 Oh and its not really a silent exploit.

Super friendly user and helpfull !!!

Glyco - October 24, 2016, 2:30 pm

Is it possible you can make it work on both unpatched and patched Offices?

ExploitTools - October 24, 2016, 2:46 pm

Usually silent exploits can work only on unpatched Office version, our X1 is better because can work on patched Office 2007 (still very popular). We are working on V5 exploit, 3 in one CVE. It can work on patched and unpatched Office 2007, 2010 and on some compilations of Office 2013.

It's simple to resolve your trouble mate. Using cracked OMEB is leading to creating empty files, without exploit inside. Why? Just because OMEB is using two factor auth. You can use cracked exe, but this cracked will not download signature from auth server. Proper building requires valid key with matching Hardware ID. To be clear, cracked version creating damaged files = no usable

Do you recognize it?

I have source code access to V5 with cross compatibility with 2007/2010/2013 & 2016 with silent payload along with semi-polymorphic shellcode generation resulting in fixing FUD time per bin.

Let's give this a week or two to settle in before I even consider taking over as I'm currently working on a different unrelated cryptographic project here on HF.Wait so is the project still going, Will you take his place? How will our license be re activated since his db has been raided.

I am wondering the same question the user just above from my last post said he will start taking over the project, but didn't mention if the existing customers would get their subscription back.

We at least deserve a partial refund if we don't get our money back in full yacood - October 30, 2016, 7:50 pm

Where can I find another exploit builder {silent doc}

Zoidberg - October 31, 2016, 12:05 pm

yeah dang, I had a client who was ready to use this tool with a project of ours, but now what the fuck am I suppose to do

Codefuser - November 1, 2016, 12:55 am

What I heard was that ExploTools was arrested. RIP.

XzZ. - November 1, 2016, 2:35 am

Show some prove that he was arrested, any newspaper?

All computers with programs, and server is retained by police (it not known whether were encrypted). Keep calm for a while and if you can, not talk about the offensive. After the verdict, boss or coder will speak and answer on your questions (They will tell you what mainly happened). Sorry for the situation, but had no influence on it, and the whole situation for us is a tragedy. I know it is about money, but at the moment return cash is impossible because all of our wallets and bank accounts have been blocked for the purpose of investigation. I will tell more soon, sorry again, Keep calm.

Update; ExploTools apparently came online today for a split second christianjohn - November 1, 2016, 9:01 am what is really happening did he really run away with our money or what support team should say something because this is really taking days...

Backopy - November 1, 2016, 3:56 pm

TBH it's going to be hard to trust ExploTools, I'm not even sure if it's the same person.

Glyco - November 1, 2016, 4:59 pm

He is a scammer I have made a detailed thread about him

I wouldn't expect much back. If the OP did indeed get busted for doing something Blackhat. I would wash my hands of this situation entirely. When these things happen, all funds that are available to the feds become frozen assets and considering you entered in to that cryptic service knowing that something like this can happen. Welcome to dealing with skids. Your best bet is to take what you have, cut any ties to the coder/reseller, and run as fast as possible. Take Blackshades for example, zero refunds were issued. Only warrants.

Just my 2¢

He didnt cashout funds yet, the wallets are probs frozen.

Nobody would leave 10% of total received sitting there.

Version - Compatible MS Word - detection

X1 - Silent DOC (mixed CVE-2015-2545+CVE-2015-6174) - 0/35 -

<https://www.ziscan.com/result.php?scan=14771654793870> Scanned 22.10.2016

Tested on WinXP with Office 2007, 2010, 2013, Vista with Office 2007 and 2010, Win7 unpatched with Office 2007 2010, Win8 unpatched with Office 2007

v1 - 2007 - NOT FUD

v2 - 2007/2010 - NOT FUD

Auto-refud is now generating unique parts of shellcode to avoid mass detection in fast tempo.

Option "Auto-Refud Big Output" is generating bigger amount of additional obfuscation for cost of weight

This option is now available only for v2 but may be included in rest of exploits

Detection may be different for every build!

Keep in mind that all silents works well on unpatched systems
