FAQ About the Service

Spoiler \(Click to View\)

What Is a Database Lookup?

Quite simply, A Database Lookup is when you search through one or many different Databases for a certain Word, Phrase or other information.

What am I offering?

I'm offering you a Service in which I search through hundreds of my personally collected Databases and sources for the information you provide me.

What can I do with this?

If I manage to find your lookup in one of my databases, More than likely, this will give me more data on the 'target information',

The majority of my Databases contain Usernames, Passwords, E-mails, Date of Births and sometimes even Phone numbers and Addresses.

For example, You ask me to search for "Target@Null.net", A couple of my Databases might contain the Email Address and will also give me the other information that might have been entered on a Signup to the website.

From "Target@Null.net" We can get

Username: TargetNull

Password: Password01

IP Address: 127.0.0.1

Phone number 01337545454

In basics, I'm offering the possibility to obtain more information on something that you already know.

Thanks

Vouches

I've been thinking about it, although, competing against Leakedsource doesn't seem to wise, What they offer is pretty hard to beat.

at least this way I get to have fun doing it :)

There's a FAQ Above the original post but, in a way, yes. I will also give all of the information related to that search, I.e. I search for "H4X0R" As a Username, "H4X0R" Has signed up to 4 Sites that have had their DB's leaked, "H4X0R" gave a password, Email address and Phone number when he signed up to the Site, which is information, I now have and know.

Hope this clears it up, Thank you.

Ltyrosine - September 4, 2016, 9:53 am

what is a database lookup?

Reading Faqs now....Ok

TheOnlyAnonymous - September 4, 2016, 1:24 pm

Database lookup is having one or more pieces of information to use to look through leaked databases (register-able websites/private servers) to find more information that links to that specific strand of information. Example - my email is theonlyanonymous@hackforums.net and if any databases were compromised that I was signed up to then all you would have to do is to search my email into something like LeakedSource and then it will give you back all of my data from that website such as name, email, address, phone number, ip address etc depending on what they have secured.

Egregious - March 9, 2017, 12:51 pm

OP completed a thorough lookup for me. Thank you!

Ooze - March 14, 2017, 8:53 pm

Thanks for running this service

Could you PM me your list?

jujuger - March 14, 2017, 8:56 pm

I am interested in acquiring the databases myself.

Can I pay you for the databases you have?

A Lot, I'd rather not disclose the exact amount but I can image there's only a very small amount of users on HF That have a larger collection.

PM Me and I'll Search for you, I'm still running this service but to HQ Members only, too many 1 day old accounts asking for lookups.

OGOObtain - May 14, 2017, 6:41 am

Damn I will def be using this soon :)

Jackal_1234 - May 14, 2017, 9:09 am

Hey man i cant send you a pm yet because i don't have 25 posts yet. But do you have more databases than leakbase?

I cannot say, simply because I don't know how many Databases Leakbase own.

Leakbase is a great service run by a team of awesome people, I am just 1 person.
I'm going to assume that they have more simply based on that alone.

Regardless of how many databases Leakbase owns, you could have that single database that Leakbase doesn't, but that does contain a users' personal info.

A single number doesn't mean much.

Somebody didn't read the thread properly.

"I will not be available 24/7 I will get back to you when I can"

I have MANY other requests, some are from much higher repped people than you.

I'm obviously going to deal with them first.

I will get to you, if you'd rather not wait, feel free to pay and use <https://leakbase.pw/>
