Thread: How to get unbanned from Amazon marketplace?

NZT - August 31, 2016, 10:07 am

Hi HF,

Firstly, i'm not sure if this is the right section, so feel free to move thread.

Anyone, does anyone know how I can get my Amazon marketplace unbanned?

I was banned years ago for selling Windows keys (stupid i know), and have some other stuff I want to sell via Amazon. Anyone know how I can get unbanned?

(I tried setting up a new amazon account with a different email, but they somehow linked it to my main, and restricted the seller rights on the new account too ?)

Any help appreciated. ?

Yes, amateur mistake really, I just thought Amazon weren't overly strict on multi-accounting.

My concern is even if I mask my IP, the billing address and so on will be the same?

Use brand new details, use an RDP as well. Fresh address, fresh name (if possible) etc

I got banned for double dipping and refunding at will....

I got banned rightfully and 5 months later I make a new email that already had an Amazon account attached, weird right.

So just try copping an aged account from somewhere.. I guess that's how I'm able to use it freely now

You ain't getting unbanned.

New account, all details need to be different.

All details.
