How long does it take you to crack the person you're E-whoring and get them to pay? What's your record time?

Mine was around 6 minutes.

That's no shit: One guy just wrote to me after I asked him how old he is and whether he is interested : "pp?" I sent him my PayPal address and he sent like 30$ lol and ignored me afterwards. Something that weird never happened to me unfortunately again though.

Did he send you an AGC?

Lol sometimes I have trouble trying to find a smooth way to tell the guys I'm selling and taking PayPal and you just randomly get 30$ from a guy that ignores you afterwards

I'm not into cracking anyone, I tell them the prices immediately. Sometimes they don't even want preview or verification, so I've had a few guys who paid me under 1 minute.

My record time was the first night I tried it out, within 3 minutes they sent me money, granted it was only like $20 it kept me trying. Now i am in business school and work for a marketing firm and have been using some of those strategies while at college and it works beautifully

That happened just one time and it could have happened to everyone here, I didn't do anything special.
