Thread: Anyone else love the sound of typing on a keyboard?

ZuGgY - September 7, 2016, 5:51 pm

I cannot be the only fucking one who loves hearing the sounds keyboards make as you or someone else is typing away, especially quick typists...

Don't lie, bitches.

Silent Uprising - September 7, 2016, 5:52 pm

I fucking love it. Sometimes I just move my fingers fast typing gibberish just to break the silence and hear something. Also when I am on a good roll I just like to keep typing and typing on and on and on since it sounds so cool. Hi my name is joe what is your name typing sounds. Wow. Yea.

Edit: I don't see your name in the News section as much, what happened? I enjoyed reading those articles you posted.

To me just typing gibberish doesn't sound good. You need the rhythm of someone actually typing words.

At times I just think it is to quite so I skim my fingers over the letters just typing random things. I dunno, maybe it's just a me thing. Rhythm or no rhythm still sounds good to me.

Controlled - September 7, 2016, 8:20 pm

its almost like a tornado siren, its like calming almost, not because there is a tornado coming at you like a rabid dog after a rabbit, but because its so loud and bass filled.

but yes i agree, i love the sound of typing on a keyboard, i work in an office, i hear it all day long!

Credibility - September 7, 2016, 8:58 pm

Go on YouTube and search "ASMR Typing".

W?lf - September 7, 2016, 8:59 pm

My mac really doesn't give off that much sound sadly ;c

Fidel Castro - September 7, 2016, 9:27 pm

My PC keyboard just screams like a little girl when i hit it, love it alot.

DeadCode - September 7, 2016, 9:36 pm

Yes, it's why I got a cherry mx blue keyboard

J?cob - September 7, 2016, 10:10 pm

I have some cherry blue switches and its amazing. Anyone that is an avid computer user who computer user who types alot, invest in a keyboard with cherry switches. It is amazing.

To answers the OP's question, yes, I don't mind the sound of typing. Only if it's light typing, though, if it's someone smashing keys then no.

Potential pedo conformed ?

?ystem - September 7, 2016, 11:33 pm

Dude! Finally someone else.

When ever I need a new keyboard I check out and "clack" each keyboard for perfect sound; I love it so much. If I'm going to constantly hear it then I might as well enjoy it. I like a good, hollow-ish sound.

If I hear one of those loud, overly clickity-clacky keyboards going off I'm about as a chipper as a vampire with a paper route.

Uploader.sx - September 7, 2016, 11:34 pm

IKR. Specially if you are watching a tutorial on youtube or something.

Mr. Corleone - September 7, 2016, 11:46 pm

Type in youtube: ASMR keyboard writing

You'll love it.

Persecute - September 8, 2016, 12:39 am

it does sound nice, especially when its really quiet. Don't know why

Demonstrate - September 8, 2016, 12:40 am

My Corsair K70 makes some great sounds.

Dominancer - September 8, 2016, 12:57 am

I personally enjoy the sound when i'm typing. I have fast fingers and a rhythm of typing and it's nice when i hear well coordinated ticks ;d

Netw?rk - September 8, 2016, 1:18 am

Specially on my SteelSeries 6gv2, love the sound.

Niko - September 8, 2016, 1:25 am

Yes. And I fucking love the sound of my keyboard.

Rinne - September 8, 2016, 1:35 am

Yes, I do love the sound I make when I type. It's very appealing; Others find it weird though.

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Autonomous_sensory_meridian_response

TL;DR A tingling sensation some humans can experience that is described as "relaxing and pleasant". Many listen to ASMR YT creators content to relieve their Depression, Stress, Anxiety, or to help them fall asleep. Sensation can 'only' occur with the use of Headphone or Earbuds. ('only' isn't true, but the soundscaping is damn-near required to experience it if you're susceptible to ASMR.)

R?????obert - September 8, 2016, 5:30 am

Yeah I do as well, it something called ASMR, whenever I can't sleep I just watch a vid of it

Anyways OP, ASMR is really relaxing.
It might feel weird at the beginning but try to bend that feeling with relaxness, just lie down with a cup of coffee, chocolate and relax.

Also it is not for everyone. There are people who don't watch ASMR simply because they label it as weird. I did the same, but instead of going with others I simply tried it out myself. It's excellent :)

I love it when i get salty at someone i automatically start typing fast and i love the sound it makes :D

mike jovy - September 8, 2016, 6:10 am

Which sound you mean by that? i lov the mechanic keyboard typing sound. it is great for real. but somehow it is quite noisy at night.

Dar?k - September 8, 2016, 6:10 am

I find it annoying for some reason, my brother has a keyboard like that and I hate the sound of it..

ketamin - September 8, 2016, 6:11 am

Went on 10fastfingers and got 165 WPM
Spoiler \(Click to View\)

<http://vocaroo.com/i/s1ILwwbajLqd>

(That's 13.75 keys per second) 1 word on 10 fastfingers is 5 letters, says so on the FAQ. $165 * 5 = 825 / 60 = 13.75$

I'm using a Corsair K70 cherry mx reds with rubber o-rings btw.

Not really lol. I work with computers all day and after work, I prefer not hearing it. I guess this goes with anything that you hear on a constant basis. You eventually get tired of it.

Don't lie, bitches.

The sexual sounds that a keyboard makes, when I rush my fingers over them like they are some kind of sexual instrument which spreads the naughty sound of the "tick tick" makes me throbbing hard, makes me desire more of those extraordinary but loving sounds.

When I'm almost about to cum, I smash my non jacking hand on the keyboard to make the "tick tick" sounds even harder, then I hit my dick on the space bar (and other characters that I can hit at once) until I blast all over the keys.

All serious now ??

No. I do like the "special" ticking sound which a Macbook Pro makes (I own a Windows Laptop, not a Macbook) and it sounds different for real.

I can't really say that I like it the ticking sound of this keyboard, because it doesn't feel like a "steady" keyboard to me.

Anyway, hope I didn't shock you too much with my joke about sexual sounds and nice topic btw.. first time I ever seen a guy talk about the ticking sounds from a keyboard (no offense, I do like the topic).

Pretty excited to see what other members are thinking (yeah I'm relaxed, got nothing much to do until it's 4 PM) :P

I like it when someone else types rapidly but I dislike it when a noob types letter pet letter, really slow.

My dad is a IT Professional, finished his education in the field. He does all his work typing with his right middle finger and spending 5 seconds looking for each key.

Depends on my mood, most the time I enjoy the sound of typing however when I'm in a irritable mood it gets on my nerves.

astroreject - September 9, 2016, 3:53 pm

I am not the best typist but I love it personally when I go on a streak of no typos and hear every click during that streak!

Username696969 - September 10, 2016, 3:37 pm

I do not love but it is a comforting sound.

mertonixx - September 11, 2016, 5:37 am

I'm a programmer and I love the sound of my keyboard while programming/typing OMFG !

Rip miK - September 13, 2016, 6:34 pm

I love listening to the sounds of mechanical keyboards, but I have to hear them in real life I can't just watch a video or listen to someone typing.

I'm just a strange person :^)

Secrets - September 13, 2016, 6:46 pm

back in school i fucking loved it S bragged and showed off to the other kids look how fast I could type . Best part was setting up the keyboard and sitting in an upright position . ??

JuiceWater - September 13, 2016, 7:18 pm

It's really relaxing to me but it has to be fast typing. When old people do it I get really frustrated, and I just want to scream "IT'S OKAY! LET ME TYPE IT FOR YOU".

Tylers The Name - September 13, 2016, 7:21 pm

I love the sound of typing, especially when you get in a really nice rhythm and the words are just flowing.

t0rch - September 13, 2016, 8:02 pm

I'm indifferent. It infuriates my father though lol.

Stixx - September 13, 2016, 8:13 pm

To me, it depends on the type of keyboard. I can't stand the older keys that are larger (idk what you call them) but the newer, more flat keys usually on a laptop have an amazing sound.

Funny how so many people (myself included) maybe don't realize they like a strange sound like this so much. Interesting post!

21 21 21 - September 13, 2016, 8:19 pm

Hell fuckin yeah bruh.

Shit is so fuckin weird. I sometimes just chill and press my arrow keys and shit since they're the least used so they still crispy asffff

k70 RGB is OP

I needa cop blue switches I heard they even clickierrrr

Aran - September 13, 2016, 8:20 pm

I have a blackwidow mechanical keyboard and the sound is like heaven..

nique ta mere - September 13, 2016, 8:21 pm

I use razer blackwidow ultimate 2016 and I dislike it. Idk sometimes it's okay I guess.
