Right now SOME of people have some mods/hacks which for Rockstart is hard to detect. Few weeks ago I bought some $ from modder and nothing happens.

Anyway if I were know you (ScorpionOfWar) before, I wouldnt buy it :)

I dropped myself 50Million+ 2 weeks ago and no bans yet. I dropped many other peoples in free lobbys and no bans at their site rynage - September 16, 2016, 6:20 am

Are you using a mod which you wrote by yourself ? If yes, probably thats the reason.

For example if someone releasing a hack/mod etc about thousands of people starting to use it. It's easy for Rockstart to detect it.

If 10 people will use that method, it will be harder.

Anyway just noticed your thread for "much money". Soon expect me to use your service :)

I paid 100$ for my mod menu. So its pretty private. And I think it will be a pleasure to deal with you :)

Just to give you guys a heads up on Rockstar new practices for making the game unfun and seemingly boring for a very long time they added a horrific ban and grab policy.. In short if you cheat they will ban you for a certain period of time entirely off of GTA Online forcing you to play Story Mode only.. Also as it applies to this thread specifically any money gained illegitimately will be automatically deducted from your account not to include valid money gained from shark cards... With that said they probably wont differentiate between sold car money as there have always been people cheating the Matrix of GTA lol.

Here are the official postings:

With the R* anti-cheat that detects how much money you are dropped on PC, what is a reasonable amount of money and time frame that you can be dropped without arousing suspicion? and how does this method differ or avoid detection from them.
