How many people can you add?

From what I heard, no you cannot sell buy ins.

Before you could add who you want. But now I am not too sure. I would ask zSerity if you really want an answer.

From what I see. They rebranded and now can only inv 4 or 5 members per leader. So there ya go.

They don't want the group to be plagued with inactive members from what I see in chat.

This spot is still for sale.

Kind of sad that he didn't respond to you tho.

I'd be interested in purchasing if we can get definite confirmation if we are able to sell spots etc, obviously we will want to recuperate some of the money spent.

Don't you have to be approved to be a leader by Omniscient as well?

As Japanese said, isn't required, no. Only for ownership, however if I did need it I would obviously try and get it.

I'll confirm your question.

You can not sell buy in/spots in the enigma group.

You get your money back when you sell your leadership spot.

Can't believe people would actually pay that much for it, but good luck selling OP, I'm sure you'll manage.

Are we able to invite people at all? Is there a limit? A process?

Yes you can invite anyone you like.

But at the current time each leader can get only invite 5 members each.

Those members you invite are your responsibility to keep active within the group.
