What's does your site have that rocketr or Hexpay doesn't have?

Sholi - September 26, 2016, 9:00 am

New Updates 2016-09-26:

Coupon Management

You can now create promotions and offer your customers special discounts by creating coupons. You can set restrictions for how many times the coupon can be used altogether or per user. There is more to it such as setting a schedule for when the coupon expires or if it should apply to all your products etc.

Enhanced Product Management

Adding/editing products is now done under the new Product tab.

You can also edit products whether published or not from under that tab, additionally if you have a published product you can edit it right from the sales page.

Adding products is much easier now as fields have been rearranged and more features such as Download Limit(s), Download Expiry, and Sales Price have been added.

Enhanced Dashboard

Your dashboard has now been enhanced and the way sales reports are shown is now improved with better and beautiful graphs.

New tabs have been added such as Orders tab where you can view orders and their details.

Coupons tab where you can create special offers for your customers.

Settings tab where you can edit your store details and payment information.

Products tab where you can add and manage your products with ease, and last but not least the Knowledgebase tab where you can find help on getting started as a Guider (Vendor).

(Sep 26, 2016 11:28 AM)The Ebook Giant ? Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Both are great platforms with dedicated owners. I would say they're a little different from us as they are open to all digital products/software and do not have a storefront.

Also their service is primarily targeting sellers and that's why they offer a ton of decent features to help them in advertising their own products.

On the other hand, Mr Guidee is eBooks-only and uses a storefront (mainpage) to promote published products. Our features are listed in the original post.

I hope that answers your question.

So basically, only privileged users can sell on the site and you are indirectly vouching for them?

You don't need to be a person of special rights to sell on the site. I wouldn't call it privileged.

Also we don't vouch or endorse any of the products on the website.

I see where you are going with this and I understand but it doesn't mean you shouldn't do whatever it takes to combat it.

The features we have in place will make it difficult for the end consumer to leak the product. We will also keep on working to make it even more difficult to the point where the only way to leak it is to take pictures of every page.

22 December 2016 Update:

Vendor Ratings System - You can now leave individual feedback on a Vendor after downloading their product(s).

Store Banner - As a Vendor you can now have your own banner at the top of your product pages that includes a profile picture, relevant information about your store, and your ratings.

Premium Vendor Status - You can now upgrade your account and unlock great features and benefits that will help you stand out from your competition.

Featured Ebook Spots - You can now purchase spots in the Featured Product slider that is available at the top of the front page for your published eBooks.

+ Small improvements and fixes.

It's a bunch of features that are there to help combat leaking. Things like disabled print, edit and copy abilities within the PDF aswell as a watermark with the customer's information and a unique order number.

Ofcourse it will be improved from time to time to make it even harder to leak but this is what it pretty much is at this moment.

FYI, you should be wary of every new service out there whether free or paid. Monetary reasons are not always why a service is shut down and we've seen it happen even recently with NetSeal and plenty of other services outside of HF.

This project is a passion of mine and although the site offers paid advertisements and Premium Vendor upgrades; it is not the revenue that drives me. It's the comments like the one above your post that gives me hope that this can actually be useful to someone. It's also people like you who depend on it with their business and time. Honestly I've never found anything more satisfying than being useful to someone; and that is what keeps me going.

Besides all the YODA talk, and to answer your question in a direct manner: I am grateful for my investments, savings and additional revenue from the platform which allows me to continue running it.

Sholi - April 23, 2017, 5:26 am

23 April 2017 Update:

Timesale Pricing allows you to set an amount in which the product will increase by every X amount of sale(s). When the price reaches the max price limit that you've set, it'll stop increasing.

All options are configured by you (the vendor) when adding/editing products.

Read more about all options and how you can get started here:

<https://www.mrguidee.com/guider-knowledgebase/timesale-pricing-beta>

Timesale Pricing is in beta mode and there may be a few user errors which we're not aware of. We appreciate your feedback and hope that you can report these issues to us so that we can fix them in a timely manner. Enjoy the rest of your Sunday!

Sholi - April 26, 2017, 1:29 pm

Minor fixes to Timesale Pricing have been made.

A little about Timesale Pricing:

If you're in the market of selling copies like this:

"First copy: $50, Second Copy: $100, Third Copy: $150"

Then the new Timesale Pricing feature is one you do not want to miss out on as it allows you to do just that. With Timesale Pricing you'll be able to set the amount in which a product will increase by every number of sales (adjusted by you). When it reaches a maximum price (set by you), it'll stop increasing.

Feel free to leave any feedback/suggestions that you may have.

I think you definitely should integrate BTC. If I was going to sell BTC would be a must for me in most cases

Hey man. My eBook has greyhat methods in it. Would I be able to upload it to MR GUIDEE?

Illegal -> No.

Legal -> Yes.

In my experience, people that say "greyhat" usually mean fraud

09 May 2017 Update:

Update Notifications:

Customers can now be informed of a new update as soon as it is out. Whether an existing eBook file has been updated or not, vendors can now inform their customers of any new changes to the product with just one click.

You don't have to manually reach out for updates now or rely on the Vendor to personally reach out to send you updates. This cluttered process has now been simplified with just one checkbox. As a Vendor you can read more about this here.

13 June 2017 Update:

Quote:

Product content is now shown on the sales page..

Under every product page you will see a "Product includes:" label along with the files that are included. This will only show file formats and the amount of files that exists. It's a good idea to let the customer know what they're getting and how much of it. In a later update we'll add in the total file size to complete this feature.

Manual PDF Watermarking live

Say bye to Automatic PDF Watermarking and hey to Manual PDF Watermarking with tons of cool options!

Add overlays to your PDFs, select the color of those overlays, place them where you see fit.

Add text to the footer of each page, select the color of the text and choose between the current product number/order number/date/email tags.

Additionally security options like disabling editing, printing, copying and adding a password to the PDF have also been added.

In other news.. Minor bugs, and other boring stuff have been tweaked with. Let me know if there is anything you'd like to see improved or added.

02 September 2017 Update:

Enhanced Checkout Form

OLD CHECKOUT

Spoiler (Click to View)

NEW CHECKOUT

Spoiler (Click to View)

As you can see it has been completely revamped making the process of downloading an eBook now much smoother. There are more checkout enhancements to come and this is just a step in the right direction.

Adding to Cart

When you hit the "Download Now" button on any single product page you'll be presented with this popup which allows you to go directly to checkout or continue shopping incase you're looking to add something else to your cart. Previously clicking on the button would take you instantly to checkout not giving you a chance to continue shopping for more eBooks. This has now been changed with this update.

More features and enhancements are coming. I hope this one will ease the pain for the ones who choose to shop for eBooks on Mr Guidee.

13 February 2018 Update(s):

Quick Launch Menu

The new Quick Launch Menu has been added to every visitor on their first session. After closing the menu it will no longer appear unless a new session is created (Browser page(s) closed and reopened once more).

In this Quick Launch Menu visitors can quickly jump to whatever they came here for. So if you were looking for Money-Making eBooks then you can select that from the menu and get sent right to your preferred eBooks. You can also navigate directly to the product support page from there and even get started on selling your own eBooks.

Revamped Help-Desk

The entire product support page has been revamped.

Revamped Order Page

The old and rusty order page is now gone (hopefully you haven't experienced it) and a new one is now in charge. Hopefully you'll experience this one =)

Read more here (and see the pictures of the updates):

At this time it is completely free to publish and sell on Mr Guidee.

Sign up here and make sure you check the box for becoming a Vendor:

<https://www.mrguidee.com/my-account>

When you're done, navigate to the Vendor's Dashboard, add your PP w/e and then your product.

You can refer to this knowledgebase for further help with pictures and whatnot.
