Purchased 100$ BTC from him but I never get it , he keep telling me that my payment is in on hold but on my PP it's completed , he put a fake tracking ID on the payment (do I don't even know if I can chargeback) , still waiting for a replay , a refund or my BTC.

Update: He tell me his paypal is in neg and he can'r refund me , I still want my BTC or a refund of some sort.

I only want my refund or my BTC.

it might be on hold in his account

i have also seen that it shows completed in my side but shows hold on the receivers side it took 72 hrs to get it done.

ask him to show you on teamviewer.

I hope it gets solved

but seeing his new thread it seems sketchy.

just call paypal and explain the situation but leave out that you were buying bitcoin, say you were buying currency for a online game.

Same happened here, will make a dispute tomorrow

He's even changing his password all of a sudden

i guess he's trying to delude us as if the acc is stolen

Funny how everyone claims their account got compromised so they can scam without repercussions.

HF trend?

Good luck with this buddy.

I'm glad that we dealt without any issues. Thanks again for that :)

He's back, changed his name to Ruzz.

Tried me with $100 of BTC on PP - Got frustrated when I called him out and then gave me neg feedback.
