You JUST made a thread here.

Don't go spamming the rat section.

Can you elaborate please?

Step 1: Tie someone down with them facing up.

Step 2: Put a Rat in a bucket and put the bucket down on the persons stomach (Trapping the rat against the person)

Step 3: Take a torch and start heating the bucket up.

Step 4: Watch the persons face as the Rat starts burrowing into the person to escape the heat.

Success! You have now installed a Rat in a target!

But seriously, can you elaborate a little more? Do you know the person? Do they trust you?

?? Excellent!

I know some other ways even less pleasant but... It will do the trick ;)

Well I know identity, account name and phone numbers, but no trust or physical access to the devices.

I don't think you noticed but the RAt section is already spammed with posts about LL and the forced notification.

I vouch for this method. 10/10 would do again.

Well, would they have a reason to open anything you sent them? Could always use their identity and look up a few friends, use those names and send an email claiming to be from one of them.
