Thread: Basic forum userbars

Nevieth - September 14, 2016, 5:40 pm

I made these for one of my forums and I figured I'd share them.

These work on dark or light templates, and are easy to read and not some annoyingly hideous design.

They get the point across.

(Poets Society is for a little user ran group on my site, you can pass by this one.)

If you want to use these let me know, I'll give you the psd and font download... but I'm keeping that unlisted for now.

Update:

I threw the font and .psd into this, so hope it helps.

simplistic, and can easily be used to make your own userbars. nice resource you made for us here
OP

won't be using them, i just wanted to tell you that i think they're nice

True, it doesn't have any graphics or uniqueness. I made this more to share with the public MyBB forums so users can use these over default userbars.

It gives a bit more variety.

Mind helping me to edit the text in the middle to "VIP" and the color would be in orange?

Funkill404 - November 4, 2016, 7:57 am

Cool, thanks for sharing with us

Sure I'll see what I can do. You have any specific hex code for orange, or should I just do a raw orange?
