Are those Standardized extracts? or plain dried leaves?

Coz if they are plain leaves, then your prices are off the roof! normal market price is about 10-13$ per ounce(28 Grams) from very good and reputed online sellers! your prices are almost 6-7 times above market price!

They're plain leaves. I'll have extracts coming soon but to be honest my main business is selling the live plants, which @$30 is $10-20 CHEAPER than most retailers.

Plants are cheaper than usual, the leaves a bit pricey but honestly who needs a whole ounce anyway lol.

I haven't had any complaints on the pricing yet and I usually throw in a bit extra but maybe I'll consider dropping the price.

Also the leaf comes as is, no extra money needed for shipping costs (4 stamps are needed per 5grams and 10 stamps cost around $8 so do the math.)

Thanks for the input I'll keep it in mind.

Impaired_ - September 17, 2016, 8:40 pm

Dropped the prices by $5.

Sent out samples hopefully some vouches are on the way.

Guzzie - September 17, 2016, 8:40 pm

People have for centuries smoked and chewed these leaves.

I'm not saying for you to do that, consider it a history lesson. These items are not intended for human consumption.

Actually you can. Plus shipping.

Reputable site: http://www.arenaethnobotanicals.com/salvia-divinorum-c-0_1.html

I actually have multiple friends who have ordered salvia from that site.

I have ordered Kratom from the site.

Texas law is too wishy washy, live plants could be considered legal or illegal the way the legislature is worded.

I'll have someone look into the legality of live plants in your area. The law clearly states living unharvested plants are legal but then says all parts living or not are illegal.

AAA+ - September 27, 2016, 6:19 pm

SIM-595622 - December 9, 2016, 9:31 am

I remember trying Salvia Divinorum in my younger days as a curious rebel. I recall you needed very high burning temperature to release the active substance Salvinorin A. Anyways, it was fucked.. My two friends turned in to goblins, long noses and pointy ears and they talked in slowmotion. My brain was exhausted for a week.

Good luck.

Impaired_ - December 18, 2016, 7:23 pm

5x enhanced leaf now available, $12 a gram including shipping.

Psilocybe cubensis - December 18, 2016, 7:34 pm

Got Imp's salvia twice it is some good stuff! i still had a reverse tolerance the 2nd time i got some and had some nice visuals off of less than a bowl, weird strands of colorful balls filled anything with a plain color and my eyes started shaking pretty damn hard, this was his plain leaf too.

Impaired_ - December 19, 2016, 12:13 pm

I have a few more grams of 5x. Get them while they're still here.
