Hello, this is my first time making a thread but I would like to make a public Skype group since I have seen most are becoming inactive and dies out pretty quickly. This group will be mostly for helping other people/recieving help and to meet other people with similar interest ?.

Rules:

1. No drama
2. No Infecting other Users in the group chat
3. No changing group title

Okay but what's it about? I mean yeah, for receiving/giving help, but in what areas are you focused in? Technology? Music/art? Gaming?

Doesn't sound like there's much of a goal in mind, and this chat will die in three days tops if you don't have a focus and enough dedication to keep it active. Just my thoughts though.

Yea I understand it will take dedication that's no problem. Our main goal is technology so helping people with Doxing/Ddosing/RATS and other things they may need help with.
