Thread: Paid for Expansion

Armada - September 18, 2016, 12:24 pm

Ok, firstly, I want to start by saying I already have ALL the upgrades.

But this is a busy ass site, every time I refresh Im looking at 8-10 unread PMs for various crap.

MAYBE ITS JUST ME

As much as I try to keep my inbox clear and all that jazz, it gets junked up.

@Omni.

I kno the upgrades help, but seriously, Id be willing to drop a few bucks to expand my PM allotment.

There is just so much to keep track of, and to make anything official, it has to be site based, so record keeping becomes a concern eventually.

Will you allow us to expand our PM allotment?

I know its a token against the DB and all that, but an honest question.

Undefined - September 18, 2016, 12:25 pm

Actually, this is a really good idea. Maybe like an award that will basically let you double your inbox space.

Purple Kief - September 18, 2016, 12:26 pm

Totally supporting this.

It doesn't affect me much personally but I'm sure some big members will appreciate this.

'The Chatterbox award' I like this idea :)

Cryptic™ - September 18, 2016, 12:26 pm

I get tons of PMs a day as well, but 5000 is more than enough for me.

But yeah I'd pay a few bucks to have 10K.

I think a $50 one time fee is a fair price.

$50/5K space

It can be at times IMPOSSIBLE to keep up with communication.

Extra allotment to PM space in the DB is a sound and reasonable method.

We are encouraged to do deal ON SITE or our own protection, so I don't see why if I am willing to pay extra $10 or whatever to get some added space be an issue.

Omni obviously has the DB in good grounds, so it's an easy addition, and extra money for him... ?

No an award for this would be stupid.

People that don't need the space would just buy it for the award.

Okay, then something that won't show on your profile, but will be added.

Hydra - September 18, 2016, 12:44 pm

I'd be interested in expanding my PM storage - would be pretty damn useful.

Gary - September 18, 2016, 1:32 pm

Probably won't happen until an upgrade or something

Just clear out your send messages until

Target™ - September 18, 2016, 1:49 pm

It's hard to always clear out PMs and it's time consuming. :(

'Suicide - September 18, 2016, 1:51 pm

I'm agreeing with this. I just cleared out my PM box and I needed some important stuff, I backed up in notepad.. but is that really enough proof?

Suspense - September 18, 2016, 1:52 pm

I've been wanting something like this for a while. I also like keeping a record of my PMs for deal/proof purposes, so I am often reluctant to delete certain amounts of messages. It would definitely be nice to see some sort of PM expansion package/upgrade.

In response to other replies - no, this doesn't need an award. I think it would be silly if it did. Feature suggestions shouldn't be an excuse to suggest 'easy to gain' awards which mean absolutely nothing.

I'm looking forward to seeing what Omni thinks about this.

minimalist - September 18, 2016, 1:52 pm

I hope this suggestion will become a reality, I'm not receiving as many messages as I once was (~5000 biweekly) but it still would be useful.

FiftyTwo - September 18, 2016, 1:53 pm

It definitely will use up a lot more site/DB storage if a lot of people purchase this feature.

I fully support this idea eventhough I only get 2-4 PMs a week... I Wonder how you guys are getting so many PMs...

When I was active in the marketplace I'd get around 10-15 a day, but since Armada owns a RAT or something I'd say he gets 50-100 messages per day.

I run ticketing support systems nd everything else to alleviate such messages, but its going to happen. Im one of the few who will gladly not blink a fucking eye lash to pay for additional space.

I'd get extra space just for the jokes even though I cleared out 3000 something private messages a couple weeks ago

Creeper.. lol

But honestly, if I could not easily clear out my PM space, and EVEN DOING SO. Im still getting back logged.

I like being able to keep records of conversations, in event of a dispute or just for records alone.

Id pay.. and I KNOW it possible.

SawCyanic - September 18, 2016, 3:48 pm

If someone gets that many PMs, then maybe the PM system isn't sufficient for your needs. Maybe a move to Skype/Discord/XMPP/whatever would be a better idea rather than use up more DB space.

In this case where the majority of PMs are most likely Orcus related we have a support site and ticketing system for it already.

What he said, and I stated in OP.

I already try to discourage the amount of PMs on site, but it does not change.

My IDEAL situation is around 60% capacity, simply so I can go away for a week and not max out, but this is ridiculous stupid as to the number of PMs received.

Again, Id PAY to get an expansion.

Kuta - September 18, 2016, 4:09 pm

PM omni say you'll give him 1 bitcoin and boom, you got your unlimited pm space

Grim - September 18, 2016, 4:11 pm

I cant even use 5,000 that i have. I normally just clear out the ones that are just spam.

Jimmie - September 18, 2016, 4:21 pm

Just delete the last page or two every month and you should be fine.

<https://hackforums.net/private.php?action=empty>

Im still swamped....

Reece Morgan - September 18, 2016, 5:41 pm

Sounds like a decent idea. I'm sure the additional funds brought in by members purchasing PM space would more than cover the extra resources needed.

Positive - September 18, 2016, 10:41 pm

Export logs before you delete the private messages off of your account and you should be good.

I don't think he will be expanding PM space because it takes a toll on the server.

Bluffer - September 18, 2016, 11:52 pm

It's not a bad idea but it would definitely take up a lot of resources.

Troja?Hors? - September 19, 2016, 12:28 pm

I personally am not sure I'd need this, but I 100% back this idea. Would be great to see it implemented if possible.
