Thread: [\[Official Group\] "Incentive" Information Thread. Coming this sunday.](#)

.Reef - September 21, 2016, 11:34 pm

Firs things first let me make myself clear.

This is not a marketing group. As stated below. We will not have any Products on hackforums, nor will we be selling anything.

This group is designed to bring new life and hopefully new faces into the CPA/PPI section on this forum.

Any and all flame will be reported. Thanks.

About:

A group filled with dedicated members in the field of CPA/PPI/Affiliate Marketing. We are not a HackForums Marketplace Marketing Group. I have rented the group "Eternal" From Nex+ and am Rebranding it to such.

Graphics and everything is created and ready. Now waiting on Nex to return from his trip.

Everything should go live within 24-48 hours. Once it does I will close this thread and open and Official Recruitment thread.

NOTFRANKIE - September 21, 2016, 11:35 pm

Looks like a solid group but a pretty generic userbar compared to most of the current groups.
Good luck Reef

Yes of course. Unfortunately to maintain the purpose of the group we are going to be inviting members with CPA/PPI skills to not only work together but to help new members get started in PPI.

Also. I will be creating a helpdesk with useful info that I will reply to daily. Expect that after the group is finalized and rebranded.

No buyins.

Invites to people I know personally from advertising networks.

And an application recruitment thread which WILL require a CPA skill set and wanting to help newer members in the CPA/PPD section.

Understood. Thanks! I am not familiar with CPA myself so not the groups that fit my skill(s).
Nonetheless, best of luck and hope a new user group that rises up and stays.

If you were accepted it would be based on your skill set in cpa. Not based on your writing service. You wouldn't have to close your writing thread at all, it just wouldn't be a writing service under the group name. But your name yourself :)

I have 250 in bitcoins waiting for nex to return from a trip on Sunday so he can send it off to Omni.
Omni was not online in time before he left.

King of Diamonds - September 24, 2016, 3:25 pm

I'm quite interested in joining the group, although like I said in a previous post, I don't have much CPA knowledge. But if you guys are willing to teach, I'm willing to learn.

I am looking forward to this group launching. I am interested in learning and grow into mentoring new members eventually. Please notify us when you have the recruitment thread open.

VirtualFrost - September 26, 2016, 1:20 am

What is the objective of the group? Just basically getting together CPA/PPI money makers and sharing methods? To teach possibly?

I wish I got into CPA/PPI but most who offer a service are always too busy and the responses take too long so I lose interest. I get the whole idea but I don't want to risk $100+ on programs, accounts and proxies to ever try this. Looks like an interesting group with a specific objective.

Lol no. If you've ever attempted PPI then you would know sharing ideas is a no no haha. If people within the group wanted to partner up that would be on them.

Other than that its a group to get like minded people together to help out the community and teach old methods to newer people wanting to learn different skills on the internet.

You barely need to invest anything, especially on YouTube.

All you need is a URL, which can cost as low as $2 per year.

Then hosting, which can be very cheap also, unless you use a landing page supplied by the network, which in that case would then be free.

Horizon - September 26, 2016, 3:56 am

Isn't that what all the people on HF and other forums do though, share their methods to help others? But thank you for clarifying what your objective of the group is.

My bad on my part, I was thinking of the classic Instagram + bot method. I have no idea about any YouTube methods as every time I saw something about YouTube, people would say it's dead and oversaturated. Would love to know the method one day, could easily afford doing that.

Lol, YouTube is far from dead.

People who say that use saturated methods and expect bank.

Go find an unsaturated niche and watch the money flow in.

loving the GFX on this. This group is the redone Eternal correct? if so how long is the rental for? A.K.A how long can we expect Incentive to last?
