Buy spoof server. A total price of $ 189, I'll give him $ 100, he promised to give me a server, it has been the past two days, we did not receive any response.

The following is the proof!

Administrators can check me with his PM

Yesterday he replied to me asked me to report to delete a liar, and promised to give me one hour after the server, which has been in the past 10 hours did not get any reply!

I also purchased the three forums on the server. Has confirmed that two people had lied to me, a third person has not been a reply. He told me three days. If I were all deceived, I would lose all $ 389.

Yeah, he got tangled up with the cord so it took him two days to undo the knots.

So far I have not received any information about the server, which has been over 6 days!

Now I only ask for a refund, in view of your trust, I have to doubt you will send me a second-hand server or a bad server to avoid a crisis of confidence! Before I get the server, I think I should be eligible for a refund.

chunfeng000222 - September 28, 2016, 1:45 pm

He removed me

You choose a someone who's trusted enough (look @ the market sub-forums) , some are charging a fee for the service and some doing it for free.

1. you send the money to the middleman.
2. seller send product to the middleman.
3. middleman sends you the product then send the money the seller.
4. profit.

How to ensure that the middleman will not scam me? He is the official people?
