test - September 23, 2016, 8:06 pm

112 wpm. 10fastfingers is alright but weird since they aren't actual sentences and just random words strung together. I prefer typeracer.

Mr. Robot - September 23, 2016, 8:12 pm

Open up console and type paste this in

Code $(" #inputfield" ).keyup(function() { $(" #inputfield").val( $(".highlight").text() )});

Then just press space bar as fast as you can.

Nothing too great. I don't really care for these kind of things.

The 'flow' is very wrong for their words.

If it was actual sentences and contained predictable words then it would be more realistic.

nice I remember when I was typing 120 WPM and I thought I was a fast mother fucker and then I just decided to do it one day and I got 140 WPM (This was on a TRASHHHH keyboard as well) and I was like damn man.. I wonder how much faster I could get with some practice and I ended up spending all of my free time in a week just practising on 10fastfingers, typeracer, ect. I managed to get upto 150 wpm and then I was on the same trash keyboard for like a couple months more. But then I grabbed a Corsair K70 Cherry MX Red and my speed increased but barely at all but I was also not used to this keyboard yet. I started practising and I managed to start averaging 155/165. If it's been a while since I've typed I can almost get up to 180 WPM.

My highest on 10fastfingers is 176 WPM which I didn't record. ;((I find listening to music loudly enhances me to type faster but sometimes I can type fast as shit just without any music. Also good posture is key for typing really fast. You have to sit STRAIGHT up like you have a massive piece of PVC piping around your spine. I wanted to show what my first typing test of the day could get me but the website ended up timing out and not saving my score... Lovely. I estimate it to be around 160 to 172 WPM, though. I can generally get a feel for how fast I'm typing. I just did it again and the site isn't saving my score and it isn't telling me it... <https://puu.sh/rpk8h/9c705907b2.png> look at this shit.

WPM: N/A - ERROR CODE: Dominated the typing test.

Younis Khan - September 27, 2016, 6:43 pm

ayyyyy lmao 113 wpm! last time i took one of these tests i was 102. i misspelt every word with an apostrophe because i normally skip the apostrophe when im casually typing

mvmt - September 27, 2016, 6:46 pm

Got 126, not bad I guess.

I think there was only one other person on this thread who was able to beat my score of 133WPM, but I haven't kept up with the new posts - is that still the case?

170 WPM.

on leaderboard <https://puu.sh/rodvR/504b290562.png>

Edit: managed to record me doing the exact same WPM but with fewer failures. Sorry for baby hands, only part of my body that hasn't hit puberty yet. I'm only 16.

Since not many people saw my WPM. I've beaten everyone on the thread with my 170 WPM and I've not seen a single person who is legitimate on HF who can beat me. I've seen someone get close with 166 WPM but they weren't consistent.

Thats pretty damn good figuring that English is not your native language.

YAY I GOT IT TO 137WPM!!! Fastest I've ever done tbh.

The trick is reading ahead of the text.

RIGHT thats exactly what I figured out! If i look ahead and not at each word individually I can get much faster. good job op

I was the same speed when I swapped over from rubberdome to mechanical, but I wasn't like used to the keyboard. Once I got used to it I started averaging 155-160 instead of averaging 145-155. Just been practising since and I can sometimes get up to like 175 WPM.

That's actually really ridiculous. I can't type 175 to save my life. I'd be down to just hit 145-155 tbh. Seems like a good life up there. 137 wpm is my top and I can't past it. Let's try again.

I've been able to still type around 140-150 WPM while extremely drunk and probably around 120 while extremely high. Lets test, I'm gonna smoke and then I'll try to do a typing test and see how fast I can get.

i've noticed that getting high puts me at around 120 wpm because I can't read the words as fast as I would like and then my fingers just chill out
