User Profile: <https://hackforums.net/member.php?action=profile&uid=3039964>

Scammed amount: $80 BTC

Proof of sent BTC: <http://prntscr.com/clv8cc>

Proof of his address given in skype: <http://prntscr.com/clv8lu>

Bought: 3 servers, he said they would spoof. Proof: <http://prntscr.com/clv90l>

Long story short people. The guy gave me 3 SUBACCOUNTS (NO ROOT) to each server. I then requested root passwords, he did only provide 2 of them! and told me he was going to provide the other after some time. I found out that not only the servers were 512mb (one of them) the other was 2gb (not what I paid for as you can see in the screenshots), but the servers DID NOT FUCKING SPOOF lol. He pretended me to execute my custom scripts on this 'near to public servers'

Long story short, here is the FULL conversation on skype, you are welcome to see my computer: enjoy the bullshittery and faggotery of this kiddo

Seems like a legit report, hope you get this resolved.

X GLOBAL X - September 24, 2016, 10:50 am

As I told you this isn't my skype, you or someone else is trying to impersonate me.

Of course my man. This isn't the first time he hear this on HF kiddo. You added me directly from the PM I sent you on HF.

The thread had your skype on it. You obviously edited it.

GLOBAL also scammed me I'm 99% sure. He's blaming it on you and saying it was an imposter.
His Skype was on the thread and he's edited it I'm gonna contact staff to see if they can confirm this.

Also he contacted me stating he knew me from my old MC server I used to run. Chances of that being an imposter are next to none.

PennTest - September 24, 2016, 10:59 am

The guy literally edited his thread after the report/warned him I was going to report

Wow you guys really got scammed by something so stupid, do any of you have proof of his Skype?
If not, this is not valid lol.

Ya'll got finessed.

Swip3r. It does not take that much thought to understand that the guy edited the thread within minutes of the scam report. It is the same guy skype/hf. A moderator can check the edit and confirm it. We are in the process of contacting one.

You asked for his skype, then straight away an 'impersonator' requests to add him on skype and you immediately stop dealing on-site?

Cut the shit you broke fuck, just pay him back.

Here is the refutable proof that it is him lmao.

On the other hand, why in the fuck would I make all of this up? Investing my time to blackmail your sells? I was just interested in buying some fucking servers like I have done from multiple users on this forums and others, for fucks sake.

Wha- Listen guy I'm not saying you made it up at all, I'm saying you literally got scammed and the guy was smart enough to scam you in a manner that doesn't incriminate him in anyway lol.

You got finessed, by him? Most likely.. Without proof no one cares.

Not sure if you looked into the proof hard enough.

Look at the timing of when the 'impersonator' said he PM'd him onsite. How would the impersonator know that he PM'd him. This is where the scammer fucked up. Either he is the scammer (obviously) or he's partnered with him in the scam.

Take your pick, but the proof is as solid as ever. Also, why would a RANDOM impersonator add you on skype right after you give your skype ONSITE. Doesn't make any sense and if you believe otherwise than lol.

The guy was smart enough that got himself exiled. Thanks for the support.

So anytime a scammer wants to rip off someone the only thing he need to do is to involve "impersonator" or a similar "entity" in a whole story in order to come out clean???

I really don't understand what's wrong with people nowadays to steal someone's money.
Surname take care mate, sorry you got scammed.
