Thread: Anime Guessing Game: Quotes

DerMensch24 - September 26, 2016, 10:24 pm

Hey peeps!

This forum game is pretty self explanatory. Provide a (distinct, not something that could be from any anime) quote from any anime of your choosing ;)

Please also keep in mind the following:

- 1) To avoid spam, please avoid responding to a guess within a 30-60 min time frame.
 - 2) If you post a quote and no one guesses it, you should reveal the answer within 48 hours after posting to continue the thread. After a few hours you may give out some hints if no one has guessed the answer.
 - 3) One guess per post ;)
- and most importantly:
- 4) Do not post a new quote if a current one is still in use and has not been answered please

Have fun ;) I'll start off with a quote:

Spoiler \(Click to View\) "You shouldn't leave things in the fridge. That is the lesson."

It is Fate/stay night, but yes :) It is funny because as I researched this quote to make sure you couldn't google it to find the answer - I figured out those were actually supposedly King Arthur's last words. Which I think is pretty awesome and makes me appreciate it so much more.

Mafty Navue Erin - September 26, 2016, 11:37 pm

I slightly reworded mine to make sure it wasn't easy guessed. I also Google'd it to make sure of you cheating asses not getting it.

Basically started wracking my head to think of all the popular anime; went from Dragon Ball and realized it didn't fit to Naruto and thought it could be from there. But I am pretty sure this one is from Bleach :) I remember Barragan saying something along these lines

New Quote:

I love this quote, you can probably Google it but I am going to ask you not to. It is memorable enough for you to be able to get it on your own merit

"What's one thousand minus seven?"

Think about it , quote should be something unique rather than being simple lines which could common among different anime.

I agree that this thread has become polluted with random non-memorable quotes although that was not one of them if you are a fan of Chunibyuu.

Also hentai should be one of them because who is really paying attention to what they say.

Try to make it either like a tag line, something that a character says a lot or like the really memorable ending scene to an anime because they almost always have one :P

Mom: "Why aren't you in school?"

Protag: "I left cause they pissed me off!"
