Thread: [\[Official Group\] Notorious - Coming Soon](#)

TheChi?f - September 29, 2016, 11:28 am

I am buying an official group and rebranding it to 'Notorious'.
The purpose of the group will be revealed later (Hopefully soon).

Notorious

"famous or well-known, typically not in a good way."

I'll let you think about the definition of the word, it might give you an idea about the group and its focus. Do note we won't just be limited to one category.

I have a graphics request thread up here:

[Official Group - Notorious | Graphics Request \[\$100 + Group Entry\]](#) by TheChi?f

Realizm - September 29, 2016, 11:44 am

I like the name, not so much the "we won't be limited to one category" part. At first it sounds like another RATs Crew or Null type of group. Waiting to see the description to make any real assumptions but from the quote it sounds like another general group for the more skilled/talented/knowledgeable members where they can just lounge and do shady "business" deals.

Good luck with the group if/when it happens ?

Daddy???????????? - September 29, 2016, 11:58 am

There's a lot of promising groups that come out but eventually, die off within the first two weeks of it being around. If you can achieve activity within your group apart from a lounge thread, then I hope this would be a good group. Any of the groups that I have joined the last year or so have died very quickly, and that is terribly depressing when you wish to be apart of a group who you want to fully communicate with other than a post here and there for an activity check.

Nonetheless, I wish you the best.

I always like to see new groups on HF. It keeps things fun and interesting. I'm assuming this group will be for well-known users on HF, hence the "notorious". Users who are popular and have a lot of respect from their fellow users.

I'd apply, but I'm sure I wouldn't fall into such category if I'am right about that.

Posting here to keep updated, this group is probably the first one I'm actually interested in, that would be assuming it's hacking based. All the groups on here at the moment seem to be gaming or marketeers. A quality hacking group would be a great addition after the fall of null.
