So our deal was $25 iTunes for $16.5 BTC and he sent me the code and address and everything went well. I check the code and everything looks well but when I try to actually redeem it, turns out the code is supposed to work on Norwegian accounts only. It's been weeks now and he's stalling me that he'll sort this out and now he has finally stopped replying. Still can't understand what makes people scam for such amounts :smh:

I've had many deals with this guy, never had any issues.
But it's weird to see him scamming for this low money tho.

Well, you said it's been weeks.

Seems like a valid report to me.

Good luck.

Haha yea and the funny part is that even I dealt with him after this had happened and claimed he needed the money for now but will get it sorted soon.
