If you have any concerns or questions regarding the product, send me a private message through the site, I will reply as soon as I can. (Usually within an hour unless I'm sleeping)

All accounts are 100% secure, if an account stops working within 14 days for any reason what so ever, I will replace it. However from thousands of account sold, only a few have ever had any issues. Satisfaction after purchasing is 100% guaranteed.

I know this is like a gamble but are the accounts like unranked smurfs which normally contain shit champs and are plain or are these top tier accounts?

No, they are random. Always above 16 champions though.

Bought one account from him. The dealing went fast. However, I received non-working login details. Waiting for replacement now.

People like you really suck you know. I've literally logged into the account before I sold it to you to make sure it works.
