Shame its not good source tho.... This is a very quick and not very detailed basic example..

le: where is the capture any screen size via a rectangle (selection) or ability to edit the image, ability to upload on completion.

And yeah i have made my own with all these features before you ask..

Edit: Please add to your poll : Nothing, I would of voted that...

I love criticism and suggestions.
But you gave them in such a rude way?
There was no need for that and that didn't help anyone.
Now go away from my thread.

@CodeAssassin This is very childish and disrespectful.

Forcefield did a nice job here and it may be basic, but beginners can learn easier with that.

I'm 19, what about you? I guess you are 10, still sitting in your mum's basement and turning 9 next year? Imao fgt

CodeAssassin - October 6, 2016, 11:38 am

Like i said a function at best..

```
Code private Image GetScreenShot()
{
    Bitmap copy;
    Rectangle desktopRect = new Rectangle(0, 0, Screen.PrimaryScreen.Bounds.Width, Screen.PrimaryScreen.Bounds.Height);
    using (Bitmap b = new Bitmap(desktopRect.Width, desktopRect.Height))
    using (Graphics g = Graphics.FromImage(b))
    {
        g.CopyFromScreen(Screen.PrimaryScreen.Bounds.X,
            Screen.PrimaryScreen.Bounds.Y,
            0,
            0,
            Screen.PrimaryScreen.Bounds.Size,
```

```

        CopyPixelOperation.SourceCopy);
    copy = (Bitmap)b.Clone();
}
return copy;
}

```

Usage :

Code pictureBox1.Image = GetScreenShot();

For your info always try to dispose of your objects, and if this is for Newbs as you say it it please dont teach them bad habits like you currently are. As for the goats hahah fuck it why not cant be worst then your gf (if you have one) edit: 19 bahahah 32 come at me kiddo...

32?

3 things:

What are you doing here.

Why are you doing it.

Why are you still acting like a kid.

Why would someone who is 32 years old write like that? You have to be extremely retarded.

OP might not be a professional coder (yet) but he is sharing his successes and you immediately try to demotivates him. smh.
