Thread: [SKT vs. FW\[Spoiler\]](#)

Again a huge shock, was expecting SKT to blow them out of the water. First it was ITZ beating EDG, now this. What are your guys' thoughts? Aurelion Sol is busted.

aurelion sol isn't busted. skt didnt respect the siege potential of clg and also were caught out stupidly at random moments.

Why set spoilers in title.. even know i already saw the game. This is pretty annoying for some other people.

And oh well. Anything can happen in worlds. FW is a really good team even know they fucked up last 2 games. Last year few years at worlds they were dominating.

aurelion sol is pretty broken, apdo said it himself, that even a bronze player can lane competently against a challenger mid laner with sol because hes just impossible to lane against he also said a bunch of players stuck in low diamond players made it to master/challenger in korea 1 tricking sol

His laning isn't even that great his potential in Soloq is due to his ganking potential.

And he's easy as hell to counter in lane.

remember worlds is playing on pre-nerf Sol. His laning is stupid, there's rly nothing meta that counters him lol

I've destroyed every single Sol with Zed so far. And with a few other champs that probably work just as well. Fizz etc.

Any assassin destroys Sol.

His nerf wasn't even big, he took a hit on his mid game but his late game is just as strong due to passive buff

Meh.

It's just what the pro players feel like using. An assassin used by Faker would still destroy most midlaners in the tournament using "meta" champions.

This is exactly why Alex Ich is my favorite mid laner, in S2/S3 in Gambit, he played with tons of champions that werent on the meta, it made the games so much better to watch and he still destroyed pretty much any mid laner from EU/NA at the time
