Currently Rata is helping me to fix the issue, will come out with new Version as Rata help fix the current issue.

Evanescence - October 3, 2016, 7:34 am

Hello dude,

First of all, to start with, I was the beta tester of this wonderful crypter.

I started to test this out in July and found few issues and reported it to the OP, he's just mature and friendly with their customers and support staff.

Coming to the crypter itself, it's coded in C#. It has some new features like spreader, disablers and most importantly the anti memory scan which most of the crypters I see and have used lack it. This crypter successfully bypassed ESET's HIPS, Avast, MBAM, Avira and KIS in runtime.

_Devil is just brilliant at coding and I completely trust his support and the crypter. Hope the crypter overtake all of the other crypters available in the market which it's outstanding features.

GLWS and a huge VOUCH for his product.

I always wonder why hackforums adds useless shit to a crypter that shouldn't have it to begin with. Some are just lol. None the best of luck with sales. For the price it is worth it.

yes, it will require framework 2.0 as stub is coded in C# but framework 2.0 is available from Vista to 10.

Yes it works on Chinese and other Asian systems.

Decker - October 19, 2016, 1:07 pm

Just got this ordered and so far so good. 0/35 with all the USG options on and I didn't even use an HQ icon or change the build information. I've used a lot of crypters since joining this site and have recently got back into it. This crypter is kind of nice in that it has a few useful options but not too many options that it's confusing like some. I can't speak to how long the server stays FUD for since I just got it today but 0/35 on first scan is incredibly impressive.

There's a few free scanners that don't distribute out there so it isn't a death sentence or bad by any means but my only suggestion would be integrating a scanner like NoDistribute or Poison Scanner in the crypter itself. Not a big enough issue to knock anything off the score though, just nitpicking :)

So far, 9/10 only because I haven't tested it for a week+ yet. I'll be sure to report back in a week or two once I try it some more, I see no reason why this couldn't be 10/10 for a non-expert but non total newb like myself.

For whatever it's worth, my testing so far has been with Imminent Monitor 4.5. Below was my AV scan with no messing with icons or any of the higher-tier options.

I stopped using crypters out of frustration because, though I was paying 75 box monthly for ...crypter (name withheld), it never self-deletes despite the stub can delete itself without crypter, it never allowed the stub to report and it never allowed the stub to restart when computer restarts - how can you know it restarts when it can't even deliver logs. lol

So devil my gee, I use ispy and hawklogger. I just have these simple questions because I usually test these things on my second laptop before sending out to clients:

1. will your crypter self-delete and go into hiding whether I select self-delete on my stub or not? you know it's called dependency or not.
2. Will it discharge stub on installation or pin it inside as 1 file and not 2. Crypters I have used offload stub thereby making it exposed to anti. nockdown and stubs ain't FUD as you know
3. Finally, does your crypter restarts the stub to start sending logs again after computer shutdown or restart?

nice one.

To be frank, the things you mentioned above, I think it's because your settings issue from Logger + Crypter. You must have contacted seller for assistance on the same if you can't get things working. And for you I would say follow the coder instructions and don't use your own mind in it if you can't get things to work.

You should not use any such features from Logger, you need to use all such features from the Crypter to make it Properly work.

Thanks Guys for your Honest review.

breaker1911 - November 1, 2016, 9:59 am an review is coming soon !

i'm testing with runtime result and its seem good crypter.

EPS Tech - November 1, 2016, 4:59 pm

This is most unfortunate. After reading through the reviews I decided to pick up this crypter but for whatever reason I am yet to get FUD no matter what I do. Well I like the spreader option. Does anyone know the settings best to get FUD?

Also Icon selector does not work as the output file still maintains its own default Icon.

All this chaps posting good reviews, am not sure we are using same crypter.

jackbaur57 - November 1, 2016, 5:12 pm

Same thing happen to me also

SIM-2461737 - November 1, 2016, 10:06 pm

Icon selector works fine, but still I doubt if I have the same crypter with others posting good review. Though, waiting to get fud and I test again.

joeing777 - November 1, 2016, 10:15 pm

Icon is working. I bought this yesterday and he promised to fud yesterday since then nothing yet. I will be surprise if he dont fud today.

New Updates have been released, In case you get any detection then try different settings with USG.

@perez , @joeing777, @decency94, @jackbaur57

Check you PM, Final warning has been given to you for breaking the TOS. Next time you break any rule, you will be banned without any Prior notice or refund.

Just look how cheap Mentality you have, You think a 15$ Software will bypass all Av 24/7 which are multi-million USD Company?

All this user who Posted good reviews are just buyers like you but they have Patience and understand Crypter will get detected in 4 to 6 days and then they wait for 1 day so they can get new FUD update.

If you can't be patience for 1 day and cant wait for update, then you deserve a ban for sure.

Next time you break the tos and see your Crypter account banned.

I bought the product but was not fully FUD. i understand it will be FUD later so i have been silent and waiting for FUD. Now i can see it is, i will go ahead and use it quickly.

But please mates, this crypter is a very very strong one as i have tested it- i did not come to write because i wanted to be sure it can be 0/35. i stopped using a crypter i pay 75$ monthly for and bought this for 15$ and it works better than the one of 75$. So please consider this is a sale thread.

this coder, devil needs encouragement because the crypter does what a 130$ crypter does so lets be real and considerate. deal with this guy, he is a genius for real.

Thank you. That's really a stupid question and I did not bother to answer.

I dont think there are any scantime Free or paid crypter. All crypters now a days are scantime & runtime FUD.

Even if you read features list you will know we have some advance features like anti-memory scan which is only used to get runtime FUD. ?

I was just wondering because a lot of users report that their crypted files get detected at runtime (not necessesarly your customers).

Pro tip: calling your potential customer's questions idiotic is not a good business practice and isn't professional. And please don't avoid answering questions about your product as it makes it seem as you either 1. Don't know the answer (in that case, tell me "I'll get back to you about that.") 2. Know the answer but you're withholding the answer because the answer to the inquiry is not especially satisfactory and may lose your business with the client. It's also pretty annoying having to ask it several times over, and annoying your potential customer isn't a good thing either.

i'm going to post an review of this crypter soon.Have tested with Kis and it will pass it, You just need to make sure you dont use start-up from the server and use start-up from Crypter
For AVG we are fud when you crypt .net files , Just select invoke as mode of injection.

I've tested both Invoke and self injection, and i know how to use the crypter my friend, i will retry it when i get back home and write a review this's really nice crypter if it bypass 100% Runtime with all majorAV

Currently we are the cheapest over here and I dont think its Bad for this price, Its gets detected after 3 days and I need few hrs to Update so update comes out forth day.

In case you need more long FUD time and ready to pay more then you can go with Private stub, but if you dont want to buy private stub then you have no other option then shared stub.

gholam.illidan - November 17, 2016, 1:24 pm

just bought Devil Crypter.

- + stub is really fast and stable.
- + binder works fine.
- + all injection and encryption methods are working.
- + installation and its persistence working well.
- + spreaders seems good(not tested all the methods).
- + Anti-Memory Scanner and Process Elevation are working.
- + All Antis and Disablers are working fine.

- System-Wide Injection seems not working

by considering all this Pros and Cons its a really worthy Crypter

Thx _Devil

People really need to stop bitching like I see here, this has been a great crypter (with Luminosity and Imminent).

Honesty stays FUD for a good amount of time, Devil has made a great product here and people need to realize there are other factors they should look at before crying wolf.

Raylands - November 18, 2016, 10:53 am

I am really not happy with this encrypter. And I will tell you why.

First some Pros:

- + Really easy to use/understand
- + Very good binder
- + Scan FUD (using Kaspersky)
- + Often updates
- + Injection is very solid

Cons:

- No runtime FUD
- The startup exe isn't encrypted
- Sending a encrypted exe over e.g. skype or USB ends in a detection (don't know why lol, because it's normally Scan FUD)
- It's under Apps in the Taskmanager
- Anti-Wireshark doesn't work (didn't test the others)

For me the crypter is useless, because of these Cons and i would like a refund.

Well you have some wrong impression.

- Its Runtime FUD, if its detected then its because of wrong settings, many users have conformed that. (Wrong settings from your end)

- Start-up file is always encrypted cause we do not drop any file unless you have not checked any injection (Wrong settings from your end)
- If you send exe over skype, mozilla or chrome , Crypter file from all Crypters will be detected as Potential virus warning, its cause they have system to suspect any settings
- Crypter file does not appear under APP, unless the file you crypt does it (Wrong settings from your end)

All the issue you facing is only because of your wrong settings and stupidity from your end. You can not get refund because of such things.

Also if you read thread we do not have refund policy cause users like you would just use wrong settings, then waste my time and then go away with refund.

So we do not refund.

Wow, it's unbelievable that people always reject their badworks on _Devil.

It's normal that a shared stub crypter with this price of selling gets detected a bit quickly.

But the crypter files stay FUD around 3 days, for this kind of shared stub it's really great, and if you're not happy with that you should take a private stub and not a shared one.

Btw all the features on this crypter are working great, if it doesn't i guess you missed something or the file isn't compatible with these features.

Thanks _Devil for the great job you make.

(I don't know if my english is good enough but i think it's readable)

It's a bit off topic but just to inform me could you pm me the price of your private stub please ?

breaker1911 - November 19, 2016, 5:24 pm

i don't know how long its will stay UD, but til now everything is great with me i still don't have FUD runtime output yet (invoke will only work with .net, self-injection is detected by kaspersky with IM4)

i think its time for you to upload some video proof mate

i really expecting on some upgrade on the crypter.

Gt403cyl - November 21, 2016, 2:55 am

I just purchased Devil Crypter and would like to post my little review on it.

The purchasing system is sub par in my opinion, I thought HexPay was fully compatible with Net Seal, however needing to manually get the license is a pain for the buyer.

Layout is very clean.

Startup doesn't add a key and doesn't drop unless you check the startup persistence box as well. Probably could/should simplify it by having the enable startup bar auto check the checkbox and remove the second checkbox.

I haven't tested all of the disablers and anti's but overall so far it seems to work well.

Lastly, when I exit the crypter it doesn't actually fully close, I need to end task in task manager to be able to open it without the security exception coming up, preventing it from opening.

Don't take this as trashing, it's meant as constructive criticism.

I'm not going to comment on the detection rates as of right now, I will edit this after the next update as I haven't played with any settings to try to get it FUD just yet, I will wait for the next update for that.

Looking forward to updates.

All in all I rate it a 7/10 in it's current form, with a bit of work I think it could be a solid 9.
Good work so far.

Hello, is there a comprehensive tutorial on how to use the features of this product?
Please, I need it...

Ok, thank goodness, I've figured out some of the basic functions. But can't still understand features like Bind, Assembly to Clone, and Spoofer... what they can be used for.

Want to say that the much I've used this product so far, the software is exactly as Mr _D described it and I completely vouch for him.

Didn't have access to Bitcoin so he gave me an alternative way to pay(PayPal). Responds timely to mails.

Thanks Mr _Devil and keep up the good work.

PS: Would be wonderful to have a pdf file that contains usage instructions, like a quick guide.
Thanks.

Norton detected my crypted stub earlier today after i crypted yesterday. Please what could I be doing wrong?

Could it be the chosen encryption option-- USG, under which i always choose "Encrypt Strings"?

If I choose "Scramble All", will I get better FUD? Thanks...

Well he released Devil Recovery on his own for free (assuming nobody actually pays others to code something just to release it for free), hence he has some coding experience

Why didnt he check the first product he's selling on the marketplace? its not like the clipboard monitor is that advanced and silent to not be detected, I mean its more like he knew it was in his crypter

Plus in general anyone who actually hired a coder would actually panic + take a L by refunding all losses to continue with a clean reputation.

Plus he would obviously reveal who the coder is, to warn others. He just keeps on saying that "my coder screwed me" etc etc.

Clearly, WHO is the coder?
