So , lets do some purge from all that stupid cheaters threads.

First time playing overwatch ? wanna learn some new things ? this is the thread for you.

Today's guide will include -

Difference between 40$ ~ 60$ game pack

Game modes

Loot box system

Roles (tanks , attackers etc)

So i guess the new members that wanting to buy overwatch asking about the 40$ pack and 60$ pack.

60$ Pack -

You get 5 legendary skins -

"Tracer" character for heroes of the storm -

World Of Warcraft Baby Winston Pet -

Hearthstone cardback -

Diablo 3 , mercy wings -

Starcraft II -
Player icons of -

Tracer, Reaper, Pharah, Winston, Bastion, and Soldier

40$ pack -

Just 'overwatch' game copy.

If you don't have the budget for the 60$ it's fine, you can easily get legendary skins by open loot boxes.

Currently the most popular modes are -

1. King of the Hill

2. Control

King of the Hill -

This mode is divided into 3 -

Escort

Assault

Hybrid

Escort

Escort it actually ship the aim of invading it to move the ship to a certain point and purpose of the protective group to prevent invading bring the ship to the point.

To propel the ship attacking team should be on or very close to the ship and that the ship or ship to ship close to someone from the opposition.

If there is no protection from someone at the boat near the ship the ship's offensive team then moves the more people like the ship will move faster (maximum 3 people this mean that if there are three or four people still in the same boat moves fast).

(No need to navigate the ship moves alone somewhere).

If the defense team at the ship and there is no one from the ship attack quickly begin to move back a little

Assault

Here, too, there is the group of defense and the offensive team, but here it's not a ship but just a point.

The goal of the defense team is to defend the point and purpose of the attacking team is to be the point for some time.

Simple assault group should be on the spot for some time as more people will like that they fill as much of the line faster (they finished filling the line they themselves were at a point) but if there is someone from the defense point of the line will not be filled. That is the goal of the group attacking it to enter a point and kill all the surrounding advocacy group, and the goal of the defense did not give attackers to get close to the point if they are approaching a point and then enter the die.

If the attacking team has won the first point, then another point that they also need to win should win.

Hybrid

Here mode consists of 2 modes explained them Assault and Attack That is the beginning of the map will point to conquer and then the ship will sail.

Hybrid maps

Control

This mode has two group condemns attack group does.

The best mode is carried out from 3 That is the first team achieves two victories wins the game.

Maude's goal is to reach 100 percent point.

Ok so basically what happens in this mode there are two groups of two attacking teams goal is to get the point you should get the point that the group should meet at the point (or even one person) and should not be even one point from the second.

In fact after they managed to get the point they need to keep it as long as possible as far as how long the percentage of the first group that comes to 100 percent winning Round (Like I said need to win two Raondim).

There is another mode call - weekly brawl , i dont play this mode so i cant explain a thing about it since its not too popular.

So , loot boxes are not too easy to get , there is a 2 methods to get loot boxes -
