Thread: 24 hours trading EUR/USD on demo account

.Bux - October 4, 2016, 1:20 pm

Hello guys

So the guy that used to mentor me for IG + Ogads was talking about forex, trading and all the bullshit and he encouraged me to try and see how it goes on a demo account.

It's been approximately 24 hours since I did my first trade, so far I've either got lucky or progressed, who gives a fuck I'm doing this for fun and I don't plan on doing this with real money.

Again, this is a demo account

The website I use it Plus500, I don't know if it's a good one or not but my old IG mentor recommended it to me.

Spoiler \(Click to View\)

So far I think that the market is unpredictable as fuck, except when it's really high/low

I picked EUR/USD because it seems to me that it's the most active

Now I wanna know about you guys, is forex really like gambling or are there strategies and stuff to really play it safe and stay in benefit? Is the website good? Is EUR/USD a good choice?

Thanks for reading

The market is unpredictable as fuck. You have experienced how it works. It is up for you decide to put real money in. I advise you not to.

EUR/USD is the best choice. Especially if you live in Europe or United States. The market is predictable, you just have to know how to predict it.

Be careful going live with this broker , so many bad reviews.
