Thread: "Kenny Schrub" trying to pull off a quick scam with proof \(UID=2975926\)

ApolloHTTP - October 4, 2016, 10:20 pm

I was purchasing an amazon giftcard from this user, we agreed that I would send $40 PayPal first. After I sent it he went "afk" for 10 minutes. Then I messaged him and he said the money is fraud.

He's trying to pull off a quick scam and I'm not going to let him get away with it.

Part of our conversation that significantly shows it:

Proof I sent the money:

His excuse why he can't refund it:

You can click the transaction button and click "Refund" but he's too stubborn to do that.

I'm just putting this out there so people know not to EVER do PayPal deals with him.

He can't fight this, his only excuse is "I want to let PayPal deal with it". There's absolutely nothing to deal with, it's just a refund.

i was doing a deal for my amazon gift code and i got an offer from Kimberly (UID = 3190104) | <https://hackforums.net/member.php?action...id=3190104> not knowing of her / his scam history...

i agreed and he sends the paypal as agreed as friends and family with note, but when i got the payment it was in pending and not friends and family but goods and service! i refund and tell him please send as friends and family not g&s.. he sent again but still pending balance and must ship item!

beware of this user!

[scam report i made for him : <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5424567>]

If that was the case why are the funds frozen and why did I get an email (you can see the email in op) to not send any items or services until paypal reviews the payment!

He provides completely irrelevant information and thinks people on HF will fall for it.

Even if the funds are frozen, it still gives you the option to refund the payment and everything is done.

Explain to me why you can't do that? I really want to hear this.

He never told me to pay him $2, he said he was giving it to be "nice".

Look at the thread replies for proof.

Yeah, but there really isn't anything to sort out.

All he has to do is refund my payment, lol.

But thanks! ?
