Thread: Chods Cheats Firefly or Interwebz

Malwhere? - October 5, 2016, 2:50 am

Hi

Looking to get one of these, I have experience with Interwebz but have never used Chods Cheats however their new firefly looks pretty promising.

Which would you recommend or neither of them? Don't want to spend crazy amounts on cheats as I rarely use them but always good to have them.

Please let me know! (Mostly for legit settings fyi) iwebz is really good, but if you play rarely then chod is cheaper if you don't select the EAC and stream proof options.

Which one is more likely to be detected? The first week I had Interwebz I got in a vac ban wave (the most recent one) whereas cheats I used before still remained undetected as they have for 2 years 7 months ish

Not sure, they both have a "large" user DB.

iwebz had recently a detection and chods has been undetected for a while now i think?

But this doesn't mean anything, they could both be detected tomorrow you never know.

If you want to stay safe, just purchase from a coder a private build or one with lifetime and limited slots.

Will be a big payment once but after that no more monthly payments and you will be cheaper off in the end.

Chods all day, all week, all year. There is no competition between the two of them

SIM-3100985 - October 5, 2016, 7:28 am chods any day. iwebz community is full of nazi kids.

bob7up - October 5, 2016, 8:13 am

Chods for legit, iwebz for rage imo.

Lexy - October 5, 2016, 10:43 am

Well, I have two friends with Firefly and they said it wasn't very good. But, that's their opinion so you should go with Firefly if you're looking to play legit, please don't even attempt to rage with it.

Go for chods obviously (y) When was his last detection? You see nobody can remember it nowadays, since so long time have passed since.

Beside his pretty record, he's also one of the most experienced around, has more years than the most stuffed in his back.

menalix, always a great writer, listen to this advice as i don't see any inaccuracy in this.

No inaccuracy at all.

I was vaced using chods twice. Most recent was well over a year ago and at that time I only used his cheat when my privates offsets needed updating and was down. Never the less he's been ud quite a while since then and his old cheat was fun to use. iwebz unfortunately got caught up in the recent untrusted wave so uncle kolo rolled out his new driver and everything's been mint since. i never got banned in the untrusted wave and while iwebz is not immune to detections i've never been vaced using it either.

Chod's is easily the better product between the two.

zohan hacks - October 6, 2016, 12:23 am

I can recommend interwebz if you have an intel cpu for an all round cheat

OffCode - October 6, 2016, 5:38 am

I recommend chods, Very nice cheat!

why would that matter LMFAO. ?

I heared there goes a nasty rumour around saying Chod is an AMD-fanboy, so he checks wether customers uses intel or amd, and if they use intel he'll spam them with message boxes, with text such as:

"get a bigger trash-can for your pc!"

"did you know intel is for gays?"

And such, like every 1-5 seconds, it really makes the cheat unplayable :/

Because they have an intel "exploit". Y'know, cause virtualization is an exploit. ?

What did IW actually do? I haven't heard anything about the intel exploit other than it's an intel exploit? Some type of hypervisor?

pirex - October 6, 2016, 4:30 pm

the first rule of the intel exploit is don't talk about the intel exploit.

yes.

Thanks for the help, I might go and check out chods cheats after my iwebz subscription runs out then. Iwebz has a lot of good features and I was using a legit config for a while that was next to perfection so I guess I'm in for a shock if Chods is better.

netpulse - October 7, 2016, 8:52 am

Better to go for R3Cheats atm.

Wait a bit until going for Chods, they are still at the bugfixing/optimization phase.
