Thread: Requesting an Avatar

Mendacious - July 14, 2010, 7:06 pm

I would like someone to create me a simple yet sophisticated avatar.

Size: 185x185 (Cannot be smaller nor larger)

Text: Mendacious (Not too large, but simple and easy to read/see)

Theme: Abstract - Anything which has a nice pattern and or colour

Example of what I would like done(But with Mendacious as text)

I however would like darker colours, ie, greens, blues, reds, blacks.

Thanks - Small reward may be given depending on entries.

Livewire - July 14, 2010, 7:39 pm

What is the reward?

/also, you have a thread that looks completely identical to this one except for this line.

Because it is. I made that thread almost a month ago, there was only one entry which was made by you, which I didn't like. I bumped that thread too many times, plus no one seemed to notice it. So I decided to re-create the thread hoping that someone will actually help this time.

How about this:

Border:yes/no?

Also, when I attempted to fill your request about a month ago, it was when I was first starting in graphics I believe. (:

Lets try a border. I'm loving the red so far. I also like how the red collides with the black. Whoever could you try a black background which collides with a shade of light white. Also, yes you were starting out in graphics then, your entries are a huge improvement now.

Looking better. I know I have said this before, put are you able to make the background black? I would like to see how it would turn out.

Do you mean just a straight black background with no design?

Are you able to make two images, one with a plain straight black background and another with a black background with design?

That doesn't make sense. They'd like cancel each other out. Black on black doesn't work.

Is it possible to find another black background with a suitable design then?

I don't understand what you're saying. I make the whole graphic. (background and all.) So if you elaborate on what you want, I might be able to get it done.

Unless, you want something like that.

Ultimately like this. I don't however, like the border remove it if you can.

Sorry for being so "Picky", I just want it perfect :D

A lot better than your first attempt in my last thread!

I shall wait for any more submissions, if any. Thanks, Livewire.

It's not like that at all. His avatar wasn't hard to make or really time consuming. I do it multiple times everyday. Thanks for your support though. ?

I never said I didn't like it. I always like to see what others can come up with as well. I do admit it is a beautifully made avatar, I do commend LiveWire. However, I do not like you throwing your weight around in my thread. Is it a crime to see what other artists can come up with?

You're right. No need to blow things out of proportion.

I'd also like to see what others come up with.
