Thread: Post Your Home Screen

Djehuty - October 9, 2016, 1:01 am

In celebration of Halloween I designed myself a new home screen for my phone, and it made me wonder, how many people on HF put effort into making their phones look nice? So post your home screen.

Here is my October Design

Here is my normal design.

If anyone wants the design I can upload it.

Damn, that looks nice. I envy people who can keep their desktops clean. I'll clean mine every week or so and within a day its already collecting shit again.

I really like the background image, but I would make the text smaller if possible

I always have icons disabled on my Desktop and I turn them on only when I need to find some file placed on Desktop (sometimes doing it via explorer, too).

I love you

Also MorphVox is pretty neat.

The folders don't actually look half bad, but I'd take the color out of the game icons if you can. It looks a little out of place.

Agreed.

Not posting a picture but it's basically an old, torn, American flag. I've always loved the design of the flag and I guess America. It was the Nazi flag but I don't think everyone else would laugh at it like myself.

I just use the basic iPhone wallpaper.
