Not sure how long some of them were idled on the report bot site, so it could be like 20-300 hours for all I know.

I still have around 15 accounts on the side but I don't have access to their email anymore.

Can't you recover those accounts by providing the CDkey of game purchases + other information ?

Havent tried. I still have access to the accounts, like I can log in, just no OE access.

5 Accounts are left for auto-buy!
That's all I have with email access.

If you don't care if there's no OE access, let me know, I have a couple but prices are still the same.
