With passing time, I am growing more and more inactive. I barely even login in weeks. I need someone who can lead the group. No, I don't want your money, I want your skills as a leader to bring some activity in the group once again. If you feel you can do well as a leader for Legends, please send me a PM or post here with what vision you have.

There are no requirements at all, but these minimum conditions must be fulfilled.

If I am convinced, I will appoint you a leader of my group.

Thank you!

Yes they are. And this is not a recruitment, this is an appointment. A "Free" leadership spot, which you see is rare these days.

Ya with all these groups selling leaderships they are rare xd.

Yea, I do not believe in selling a spot. I want someone out of interest to lead my group.

VirtualFrost - October 21, 2016, 12:26 am

This is rare, someone actually giving out leadership instead of asking for money. Legends is a pretty chill group, can't remember how long I was in it for, but the time I was in it(before the revamp stage), I enjoyed my time in the group and the users in it are really friendly.

Can't wait to see you guys getting back out there

Moseby - October 21, 2016, 11:19 am

I would like to apply for this.

I'm working mon-fri daytime but other than that I'm at the PC 24/7 pretty much.

I love to help people, I like to communicate with others all over the world and I believe I would be a great leader. If I have a goal for something I don't hesitate to fight for it. I don't have anything particular that I'm 100% best at, instead my destiny decided for me that I would have 127 hobbies, and be like almost good in all of them. The list could go on for years but I pretty much try everything I see in my daily life, just stay on some things. Just a few of my hobbies are:

Spoiler (Click to View)

Solving Rubiks Cube

Riding motorcycle

Play games

Develope websites

Manage Facebook groups for different things, establish websites for them and help them get a solid ground

Developing iOS apps (currently 1 available on the App Store)

Learning developing android apps

Watch hockey games (if that's a hobby?)

Problemsolving in general

Helping people out (many different categories on this one)

I can see something on TV and think "I want to train that", "I want to do that", "I'm going to buy one of those".

I never seem to give up on those thoughts, almost always do what I say, but I get tired of them after couple of days and go hunting other hobbies.

The stuff I'm 100% deligated to is the motorcycle and computer part. Always been a big part of my life.

My vision would be to engage more in the group and get to know everyone, create a contact and meet more new friends to stay connected too. I'm sure there are many awesome talants in the group and people who would like the group and I'm certain of that I would enjoy my position a whole lot.

Well that's a little about myself. If you deem me worthy, shoot me a PM and I can tell you a lot more about myself.

Thanks for the opportunity anyways.

Sakuto - October 21, 2016, 5:04 pm

Hey,

I saw your thread where you stated that you were choosing a new leader to make the group active again and do something useful with it. Let me introduce you my plans for this group if I get promoted to the leader place.

I want to create a coding sector, but not one like every other groups where they do nothing than trying to create a product and just surrender after a while. I want to create a coding sector with real projects (since I'm a professional developer, I have knowledge in project management (SCRUM / XP) and everything related to this) leading to help the users or maybe make money for the group. But I also, and especially want to increase the quality of this board and of all these coding section.

As you can see from my previous suggestion (see bottom of this message for the link) and my post activity, I'm really active into all these sections, and I find it kind of sad that they are all deserted by Omniscient and by Mentors. My project is to reunite every active and HQ members of these sections (not with application recruitment, but personally chosen) and organize kind of raid with them. Basically, it would be reporting each thread where the rules are not respected, redirect users to the proper section or even help them to increase the quality of their messages to allow them to get an answer.

Of course, it would also come with a lot of big tutorials and how to threads tending to be stickied in every coding section. My main objective is improving the quality of this section, and the group will, of course, take profit of this by the reputation gained and the numbers of sticky thread dedicated to the group.

This project can look a bit utopian, but I really think that it's possible if I take the time and put the effort in it.

Thanks for reading, and don't hesitate if you have any questions!

Here's the thing with this though. He is also looking for fresh ideas, a wide variety of directions. He wants the group to be successful even when he isn't able to be here. You keep within the group, you are most likely going to get more of the same old because everyone was recruited with the same mindset and set direction for the group.

To be completely honest it depends on what you are looking for.

If you are looking for someone, who has already done the position over and over and never succeeded but has a huge e-penis because they rep bum each other. Then pick on recommended above:

However, if you are looking for someone to lead a group towards success by recruiting the right people for group productivity and growth, then I would be interested.

- CTO, IT Business Solutions Manager
- Qualified Sound Engineer
- Over eight years management experience
- Strong and stable with a passion for succeeding.

If I was to lead this group, I would only bring in legends who were legends because of their productive values. No trolls, No Bullshit.

Good luck to anyone going for this Opportunity.

I've been a leader of 2 groups here on HF; both at the time of me leading were quite active and had group projects/goals.

RATs Crew (practically all the good that group did for the community was me and KillaMuvz [God rest his soul ?] and Terror; which I was going to buy but BV1 had another offer come in before my funds became available.

I do have 1 scam report but it's a stupid situation and completely ridiculous. If anyone was apart of the groups I led I can guarantee they'd agree I was a great leader.

Looking for reasons to become more active here on HF; went on a hiatus for a few months but I'm back in black.

I see a lot of names here that clearly won't change jack shit about your group. They are only looking for attention and that's it.

Good luck with the future of your group. Every group owner/leader at this moment are not protecting their investments because of bad their decisions and management. The groups are undervalued. You need something that will do a lot for the forum but also as a group.

Now owners are also selling sectors... wtf is that ? Seriously it is going downhill and it has to change. I think that OP and his group can change this. If he makes a great group with a new concept he might destroy other owners and their investments. Their only choice will be to work together and stop the competition with everyone.

Don't say that man. All groups are the same thing over and over with different names and different leaders who tries to make their investment profitable.

Build something that will profit the whole community and not only 2-3 members. Dont forget : No Forum = No Group. No users = No Forum
