Decided to enter because I was bored af. Haven't designed for a while so it isn't my best work and I don't have access to my tablet right now so I could not use that as well.

Thanks for this contest OP!

EDIT: It is supposed to be vectorised so please ignore the pixelation within the image! I cannot vectorise on my Macbook :/

"Settin the bar" by copying a YouTube tutorial and not designing anything Halloween related. Nice.

Your design is literally the words happy Halloween in 2 different fonts with a pumpkin. How creative.

I edited the background image and then used a plug in called saber to create the moving animation. Then tweaking to make it ghostly :)

(Oct 27, 2016 04:29 PM)G--D Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Spoiler \(Click to View\)

G--D: This second place was not easy nor fun to judge. So many renders and templates being used, but both me and Novica agreed that you made serious attempts. Definitely, believe that you will become a great designer if you keep this phase up. Keep on practising and contributing in the free section to work yourself up.

If you did not get the first or second place and wonder why it can be because of templates and render being used. Razor, Priority, Classicz and more, did a good job. Would put all of you as second place winners, but that is not possible.

Will make sure to make the prize pool bigger for next contests.
